

EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS FOR PROFESSIONAL LICENSURE AND CERTIFICATION

ABOUT

Federal Regulations. Federal regulations require the University to publicly disclose whether completion of University programs that lead or may lead to professional licensure or certification would meet a given state’s educational requirements for a specific professional license or certification required for employment in an occupation (regardless of whether the program is on-ground, online, or hybrid).

Table of Professional Licensure and Certification Information. In the table below, MSU discloses information related to the educational requirements for professional licensure and certification. Information is organized by college, then within each college, by department. Column (1) indicates the program name (or the course name, for online and hybrid programs only), as well as the award conferred or recommended by MSU upon completion of the program or course (if applicable); online and hybrid programs are denoted with a single asterisk.

For the programs/courses listed in column (1), columns (3)-(5) indicate whether or not completion of the course/program would meet the educational requirements for professional licensure/certification indicated in column (2), in each case for the states listed in the respective columns. For these purposes, “state” includes the 50 States of the Union, the District of Columbia, as well as American Samoa, Guam, Marshall Islands, Micronesia, Northern Mariana Islands, Palau, Puerto Rico, and U.S. Virgin Islands.

- The table includes current contact information for the applicable licensure/certification board in each state where MSU was unable to determine whether completion of an online or hybrid program would meet the educational requirements for professional licensure/certification. In such cases, current and prospective students are advised to determine whether the program meets the requirements in the states where they are located.
- All current and prospective students are encouraged to contact the applicable licensure/certification boards in their respective states for additional information regarding professional licensure and certification requirements, including, without limitation, information regarding any non-educational requirements (such as work experience, background clearance, or examination by outside entities, such as bar examinations).
- The information below should not be construed as guaranteeing that any particular professional licensure/certification authority will approve a student’s application; nor should the information below be read to imply that other requirements for professional licensure/certification do not exist or that other requirements for professional licensure/certification have been determined to have been met by MSU’s program/course, or that any necessary approvals for clinical or other experiential learning placements are secured by virtue of a student’s enrollment at MSU.
- State professional licensure/certification requirements are subject to change at any time.

PROFESSIONAL LICENSURE COMPACTS AND RECIPROCITY

- Bar Reciprocity. Some states have reciprocity agreements with other states, which allow attorneys who are licensed in those states to be admitted to the bar without having to take the exam or complete additional CLE requirements. This is often contingent on the lawyer having practiced law for a minimum amount of time. The state may also require a degree from an ABA accredited law school. To learn more about applying for Bar reciprocity in a particular state (or transferring to another state), visit the Clio website. Please check for the appropriate context and reciprocity requirements.
- Interstate Medical Licensure Compact (IMLC) gives physicians who meet the eligibility requirements the ability to practice medicine across state lines within the Compact. Physicians will apply through the IMLC to determine if they are eligible, once qualified they will have the capability to apply to each IMLC participating state in an expedited way. To learn more on how to apply for an interstate medical license, visit the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact \(IMLC\) website.
- Nursing License Compact (NLC). Compact nursing states refer to the Nursing Licensure Compact (NLC), which is an agreement between states that allows nurses to have one compact state nursing license that gives them the ability to practice in other states that are part of the agreement. Nurses that hold a multistate license can practice in other NLC states/territories without obtaining additional licenses, while their primary state of residence (PSOR) is in a compact state including telehealth care to patients located in other NLC states/territories. To learn more on how to apply for a multistate nursing license, visit the Nurse Licensure Compact \(NLC\) website.
- Social Work Licensure Compact. *Not yet enacted. The Council of State Governments (CSG) is partnering with the Department of Defense (DoD) and the Association of Social Work Boards (ASWB) to support the mobility of licensed social workers through the development of a new interstate compact. To learn more and get updates regarding the proposed compact, visit the National Association of Social Workers website.
- Teaching Certification Reciprocity outlines which qualification each state will accept from another state and which qualification it will not. However, interstate reciprocity is not automatic. Teachers must apply for a new license if they are looking to teach in a state where they are not currently licensed, and the state teacher licensing agency reviews teaching certificate reciprocity on a case-by-case basis. States that anticipate in teaching certification reciprocity agreements usually allow educators who move from one state to another additional time to fulfill the new state's requirements while teaching on a temporary or provisional license basis. Students are encouraged to visit the Educational Commission of the States website that provides information regarding reciprocity along with other pertinent information for each respective state.

CERTIFICATION OR DESIGNATION IN A PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATION, ASSOCIATION OR SOCIETY

Unless otherwise indicated below, a degree program alone may not be sufficient to provide the content required to pass certification or professional designation exams in a particular discipline for professional certification or designation in a professional organization, association, society, and the like. MSU, its colleges or departments do not claim programs to do so, nor do they endorse any professional organization, association, or society that provide certification or professional designation in a particular discipline. Individuals interested in pursuing certification or professional designation in a profession need to contact the professional organization, association or society of interest to obtain information regarding education requirements, prerequisites, examinations, and required costs/fees.
