The College of Education at Michigan State University is a community of students, educators and researchers prepared to meet the challenges of education and kinesiology. We are committed to improving practice together through exemplary research, teaching and service. With a renowned preparation program, rigorous training for health-related careers and several nationally ranked graduate programs, the College of Education prepares leaders who make an extraordinary impact on health, well-being and education around the world.

Under the guidance of renowned administrators and faculty members in four departments, students have opportunities to pursue or advance careers in teaching (elementary, secondary and special education), educational administration, higher education, research, policymaking, student affairs, rehabilitation counseling, school psychology, fitness training, sport leadership, and health care fields (e.g., preparation for physical therapy, work as a physician assistant or attending medical school). Degree programs are offered on-campus, online and in hybrid formats, which blend face-to-face and online learning. See program sections for details on programs available.

The College of Education has established a reputation for excellence and visionary thinking in its efforts to improve teaching and learning across our nation and world, particularly within the contexts of urban and global education. The faculty remains committed to addressing the educational and physical needs of all people across the life span, and to working closely with educators, leaders and policymakers in the field.

Innovative teacher education programs, outstanding faculty, relationships with practicing professionals and strong research opportunities make the MSU College of Education a dynamic place for learning to teach and contribute to the fields of education and kinesiology. The college is proud to claim more than 59,000 alumni, each touching lives in their own way around the world.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

The College of Education offers three bachelor's degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts degree in Education (PK-12 education), the Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology, and the Bachelor of Arts degree in Special Education. The College also offers a Minor in Educational Studies.

For additional information, refer to the Department of Teacher Education for the major in education, the Department of Kinesiology for majors in Kinesiology, and the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education for the major in special education.

The college offers prospective teachers interested in teaching in urban schools opportunities for admission to the Urban Educators Cohort Program. The college also offers prospective teachers with an interest in global education to be admitted to the Global Educators Cohort program. Students interested in these programs submit a supplemental application to the College of Education after being admitted to Michigan State University. See www.education.msu.edu/urbancohort and www.education.msu.edu/globalcohort for details.

Admission to College

Students seeking admission to any of the College of Education's undergraduate majors must meet the specific admission criteria and process for the major. For information about admission to the Kinesiology majors, refer to the Admission section for those programs in the Department of Kinesiology section of this catalog. For information about admission to the Education and Special Education majors, refer to the Admission to the Teacher Certification Program section under Teacher Certification in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog.

Honors Study

The College of Education encourages honor students to develop rich and distinctive programs of study. Each Honors College member is assigned a special advisor who is responsible for helping the student plan a balanced and rigorous course of study. Students are encouraged, when appropriate, to enroll in graduate seminars, to work on research projects with college faculty and to take full advantage of honors courses offered outside of the College of Education.

MINOR IN EDUCATIONAL STUDIES

The Minor in Educational Studies, which is administered by the College of Education, provides an opportunity for students interested in the intersection of learning, education, and society. The minor is a valuable addition for those pursuing careers in the social and behavioral sciences, law, social justice, or education. This minor does not offer professional training for teaching or lead to a teaching certificate or license. The minor is available as an elective to students who are enrolled in bachelor's degree programs at Michigan State University other than the Bachelor of Arts degrees in Education and Special Education. With the approval of the department and college that administers the student’s degree program, the courses that are used to satisfy the minor may also be used to satisfy the requirements for the bachelor's degree.

Students who plan to complete the requirements for the minor should consult with the academic advisor for the Educational Studies minor in the College of Education.

The Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in Mathematics Education are administered jointly by the College of Natural Science and the College of Education through the Program in Interdisciplinary Mathematics Education ("PRIME"). The College of Natural Science is the primary administrative unit. For additional information, refer to the statements on Mathematics Education in the College of Natural Science section of this catalog.

Master of Arts and Master of Science

Each candidate for the Master of Arts or Master of Science degree selects one of the major fields in one of the academic units listed below:

- College of Education
  - education (M.A.)
  - mathematics education (M.S.)
- Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education
  - applied behavior analysis (M.A.)
  - applied behavior analysis and autism spectrum disorder (M.A.)
  - educational technology (M.A.)
  - rehabilitation counseling (M.A.)
  - school psychology (M.A.)
  - special education (M.A.)
- Department of Educational Administration
  - higher, adult, and lifelong education (M.A.)
  - K–12 educational administration (M.A.)
  - student affairs administration (M.A.)
- Department of Kinesiology
  - athletic training (M.S.)
  - sport coaching, leadership, and administration (M.S.)
  - sport coaching and leadership (M.S.)
- Department of Teacher Education
  - teaching and curriculum (M.A.)

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university as described in the Graduate Education section of this catalog, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

Students wishing to become candidates for the master's degree must possess a bachelor's degree from a recognized educational institution. A grade–point average of at least 3.00 during the final two years of undergraduate study is required for regular admission. Admission on a provisional basis is sometimes available; however, a provisional admission requires a grade–point average of at least 2.50 during the final two years of undergraduate study.

Teacher certification is also required for admission in some areas. A student wishing to obtain teacher certification may be admitted to a special program in order to obtain a teaching certificate. For additional information, refer to the statement on TEACHER CERTIFICATION in the Department of Teacher Education section.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION OPTIONS

Disciplinary majors in education and special education leading to bachelor's degrees in the College of Education are available for teacher certification.

Students who elect a disciplinary major must contact the Department of Teacher Education for the major in education, and the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education for the major in special education.

For additional information about the teacher certification options, including the many majors throughout the university that are available for those choosing to become secondary education teachers, refer to the statements on the disciplinary majors and to the statement on TEACHER CERTIFICATION in the Department of Teacher Education section of the catalog.

GRADUATE STUDY

Graduate programs in the College of Education provide opportunities for advanced study and research in education and kinesiology, and foster development of the insight and skill needed to deal with the many challenges that confront our graduates in today's professions.

The college offers the following degrees in a variety of specialties: Master of Arts, Master of Science, Educational Specialist, Doctor of Education, and Doctor of Philosophy. Several graduate certificates and specializations are also available. Students study the profession in general as well as particular specialties. There is considerable latitude for students to plan their studies in collaboration with their faculty advisors and to work with faculty across the College and university.

Students who are enrolled in the Doctor of Philosophy degree program in Educational Psychology and Educational Technology in the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education and the Doctor of Philosophy degree program in Curriculum, Instruction, and Teacher Education in the Department of Teacher Education may elect a graduate specialization in language and literacy. For additional information refer to the statement on the Graduate Specialization in Language and Literacy in the Teacher Education section of this catalog.

Students who are enrolled in Master of Arts, Educational Specialist and Doctor of Philosophy degree programs in the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education and in Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degree programs in the Department of Kinesiology may elect a specialization in infancy and early childhood. For additional information, refer to the statement on Interdepartmental Graduate Specializations in Infancy and Early Childhood in the College of Social Science section of this catalog.
Requirements for the Degree

A tentative program of study for the degree should be prepared prior to the completion of 10 semester credits. No student will be accepted as a candidate for the master's degree unless such a program has been approved by the advisor. Program changes require the approval of the advisor. For most of the programs offered by the College of Education, the master's degree may be earned on either Plan A (with thesis) or Plan B (without thesis). For Plan A, no more than 8 credits of master's thesis research may count toward the degree.

Students in any master's program in the College of Education may apply a maximum of 12 credits earned through any combination of courses taken through lifelong education, graduate certification, or in transfer from another institution. Each program may determine if courses are appropriate for the master's program and may allow fewer than 12 credits to be applied to the specific master's program.

Academic Standards

If, upon completion of 18 or more graduate credits, the student has not attained a grade–point average of 3.00 or higher, he or she becomes ineligible to continue work toward the master's degree in the college.

Educational Specialist

The Educational Specialist program is designed for persons who wish to achieve, by a planned program of graduate studies, proficiency beyond the level of the master's degree or equivalent but who do not necessarily plan to complete the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Each candidate for the Educational Specialist degree selects one of the major fields in one of the departments listed below:

Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education
school psychology

If the student is accepted for admission to doctoral study while pursuing the Educational Specialist degree or after completing this degree, credit for studies completed during the program may be applied to the doctoral degree upon recommendation of the student's doctoral guidance committee and approval of the Dean of the College of Education. However, the program leading to the Educational Specialist degree should not be thought of as a normal stage between the master's degree and the doctorate, but as a program for people who do not plan to complete work for a doctoral degree. There is no assurance that any of the work taken for the Educational Specialist degree will be counted toward the doctorate should the individual be admitted to a doctoral program.

Admission

Admission to the program normally occurs after the completion of the master's degree or equivalent. However, application may be made by those students who are pursuing bachelor's degrees from recognized educational institutions.

A student who has taken comprehensive examinations for a doctor's degree may apply for transfer to the Educational Specialist program only if these examinations have been satisfactorily passed. Other students in good standing who are in the doctoral program but have not taken the comprehensive examinations and wish to apply for transfer to the Educational Specialist program may do so by application and upon the approval of the guidance committee and advisor.

Admission to the program is subject to the general regulations of the university as set forth in the Graduate Education section of this catalog and the College of Education. Normally, the application will be processed in a manner similar to that for doctoral students.

Requirements for the Degree

The Educational Specialist program consists of two full years (equivalent of 60 semester credits) of graduate study beyond the bachelor's degree. The second fall and spring semester of graduate study normally embraces 30 semester credits of graduate study. When the master's degree or equivalent is earned in an appropriate field and at an approved institution, a minimum equivalent of 30 additional semester credits of study is required for the Educational Specialist degree. At least 10 of the last 30 semester credits that are required for the degree must be completed on the East Lansing campus.

The sequence of studies for each student pursuing the Educational Specialist degree is planned by the designated advisor with the student's guidance committee, following the procedure described for the Doctor of Philosophy degree program in the college. Students must satisfactorily complete a terminal comprehensive examination that is administered in accordance with department policies. Demonstrated competence in statistics or a reading knowledge of a foreign language will be required whenever such competence is judged appropriate to the program by the guidance committee. Included in the 60 semester credits that are required for the Educational Specialist degree is study in the major area, in other areas of professional education, and in related areas outside of the College of Education. Field work, internship, externship, and similar laboratory–type experiences constitute at least 6 credits of the program.

Academic Standards

Candidates for the Educational Specialist degree must achieve a grade–point average of not less than 3.20 during the last half of the program (the last 30 semester credits).
Transfer Credits

Up to 8 semester credits beyond the master’s degree may be transferred from a recognized educational institution upon approval of the student’s guidance committee and the Dean of the College of Education.

Time Limit

All requirements must be completed within five calendar years from the time of the student’s first enrollment after completing the master’s degree. A student who does not take a master’s degree is allowed seven years to complete the requirements.

Doctor of Education

The program is designed for educators and other practitioners who have aspirations for improving their own leadership practice, for developing leadership capacity within their organizations and communities, and for making significant contributions to their local communities and to the future of Michigan. Most graduates with this degree will take up system level leadership in various education agencies, including local and regional school districts, state educational agencies, professional educational associations, and colleges and universities. Graduates will also be prepared to teach in community colleges and regional universities, or to hold adjunct or clinical positions in research universities, as well as hold other types of educational leadership positions. Graduates of the K-12 program with appropriate prior credential and experience qualify for the Michigan Central Office Administrator endorsement.

Admission

Applicants to the Doctor of Education generally have leadership experience in a school and hold a master’s degree in education or its equivalent. Students who wish to qualify for the Michigan Central Office Administrator endorsement by completing the Doctor of Education should already hold the School Administrator credential before applying to the program.

Applicants must have a minimum grade-point average of 3.5 in previous graduate work, submit a goal statement, submit three letters of recommendation from persons who are acquainted with the applicant’s academic and professional experience, performance, and potential.

Faculty members review applications for program admission and look for indications of a high probability of success if admitted. Such indications include a high level of academic performance in prior degrees, levels of reference supporting academic and clinical proficiency, past leadership experiences and evidence of effectiveness, quality of written expression and a statement of professional goals that is consistent with the objectives of the program.

Applicants may be required to participate in an interview and to submit a sample of scholarly or professional writing.

Requirements for the Degree

The Doctor of Education program consists of a minimum of 45 credits of graduate study beyond the master’s degree. The program is a three-year, summer intensive program. The first year focuses on core knowledge required by educational leaders, policy makers, and researchers and follows a calendar that differs from the regular MSU academic calendar. The second year deepens students core knowledge of leadership and systems operations on the regular MSU semester course schedule. Year three is dedicated to completion of the capstone projects. At least 6 credits that are required for the degree must be earned on the East Lansing campus within a single semester.

Guidance Committee

Each student admitted to the Doctor of Education program will form a guidance committee with the approval and the assistance of the department. The guidance committee will consist of at least four Michigan State University regular faculty at least three of whom, including the committee chairperson, possess an earned doctoral degree.

Academic Standards

Candidates for the Doctor of Education degree must achieve a grade–point average of 3.0. Attainment of the minimum grade–point average is in itself an insufficient indicator of potential for success in other aspects of the program and in the field. The guidance committee and academic unit are jointly responsible for evaluating the student’s competency (as indicated by, e.g., grades in core and other courses, research performance, and development of professional skills) and rate of progress (as indicated by, e.g., the number of courses for which grades have been assigned or deferred). Written evaluations shall be communicated to the student at least once a year, and a copy of such evaluations shall be placed in the student’s file. A student whose performance does not meet the standards of quality will not be permitted to continue to enroll in the degree program, and appropriate action will be taken by the college or department.

Comprehensive Examinations

When the prescribed course work is substantially complete as defined by the guidance committee, the Doctor of Education student will present a portfolio of leadership performance assessments completed during required course work as the comprehensive examination, to be evaluated by members of the guidance committee. The examination portfolio will be maintained in the department for three years. Students must be registered during the semester(s) in which they present the comprehensive examination portfolio. This requirement may be waived by the Dean of The Graduate School upon request of the chair of the academic unit, if the examination is administered during the summer session immediately following a spring semester during which the student was registered and/or prior to a fall semester in which the student will be registered.
Scheduling, composing, and evaluating the comprehensive examinations is done in accordance with college and department policy. The department or college shall make available to doctoral students upon matriculation a written explanation of comprehensive examination procedures. The comprehensive examination portfolio must be completed and approved before the student is permitted to participate in a group capstone project.

Transfer Credits

Graduate credits may be transferred from other accredited institutions or international institutions of similar quality if they are appropriate to the student’s program and provided they were completed within the time limits approved for the earning of the degree desired at Michigan State University. The department chairperson and dean must grant approval. Only graduate-level courses in which at least a 3.0 (B) grade was received will be considered for transfer.

Time Limit

All components of the comprehensive examination portfolio must be approved within four years and all remaining requirements for the degree must be completed within six years from the time when a student begins the first class at Michigan State University that appears on his or her doctoral program of study. Application for extensions of the six-year period of time toward degree must be submitted by the department for approval by the dean of the college and the Dean of The Graduate School. Upon approval of the extension, the Doctor of Education comprehensive examination portfolio must be prepared anew and submitted for evaluation.

Doctor of Philosophy

Doctoral programs in education and kinesiology at Michigan State University are available to students who show promise of becoming outstanding leaders, disciplined in theory development and research, and qualified to provide exemplary leadership in educational programs. Programs in the College of Education are planned to develop mastery of a comprehensive field, to foster creative intelligence in dealing with educational problems, and to encourage a breadth of understanding of related fields. Such doctoral study is necessarily rigorous and exacting.

Each candidate for the Doctor of Philosophy degree selects one of the major fields in one of the academic units listed below:

- College of Education
  - mathematics education
- Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education
  - educational psychology and educational technology
  - measurement and quantitative methods
  - rehabilitation counselor education
  - school psychology
  - special education
- Department of Educational Administration
- Department of Kinesiology
- Department of Teacher Education
- curriculum, instruction, and teacher education

In addition to meeting the requirements of the University as described in the Graduate Education section of this catalog, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

Applicants must have a record acceptable to the college and department. A master's degree in an appropriate subject matter field may be required, but completion of a master's degree is not a guarantee of admission.

Following receipt of the application, all transcripts, required test scores, letters of recommendation, and any other information required by the program, doctoral applicants may be invited to meet with a faculty committee before a final decision on doctoral admission is reached.

Requirements for the Degree

A program encompassing approximately two full years of study beyond the master's degree is planned with and for each candidate. The concentration of study in the various programs will vary with the candidate's goals, background of study, current status of understanding, and experience.

All doctoral candidates in the college are required to have basic knowledge in at least four of the following areas of general professional education: (1) administration; (2) curriculum; (3) psychological foundations; (4) research and evaluation methods; (5) social, philosophical, and historical foundations; (6) motor development and motor learning; (7) biological foundations; (8) ethical considerations; (9) issues of diversity in education. The specific areas selected shall be determined by the student's guidance committee in consultation with the student.

All doctoral candidates in the college are required to successfully complete a minimum of 9 or more credits focused on research methods approved by their program and a research practicum course of CEP 995 or EAD 995 or KIN 995 or TE 995 for 1 to 3 credits.

The candidate is required to choose a research problem and to report the research in the form of a dissertation. The dissertation is equivalent to 24 semester credits.

The student must pass written comprehensive examinations that are administered in accordance with department and school policies. For some programs these examinations will be under the direction of the appropriate members of the candidate's guidance committee, supplemented by such other faculty members as may be appointed for the purpose by the Dean of the College. For other programs, a common examination is administered at regularly scheduled times.

The candidate will be orally examined upon presentation of the dissertation. The examination will center on the dissertation itself, but will also include examination on relevant basic concepts.

EDUCATION

Master of Arts

The Master of Arts degree in Education is designed for educators who are interested in enhancing their professional practice through online study of advanced professional knowledge related to teaching, learning, and leadership in P-12 schools and postsecondary contexts such as community colleges, universities, community centers, and the workplace. The primary objective of the master's degree program in education is to help students acquire a breadth of knowledge grounded in theory while gaining expertise in one or more areas of concentration.

A range of relevant courses and experiences can be incorporated into the student's program to satisfy individual needs and interests.

The student must select one of the six concentration areas of study within the discipline of education as part of their planned program: Literacy Education, P-12 School and Postsecondary Leadership, Science and Mathematics Education, Special Education, Sport Coaching and Leadership, or Technology and Learning. The online format of the program provides optimum flexibility for students who wish to engage in inquiry and learning that will contribute to exemplary educational practice.

The College of Education has not determined whether the Master of Arts Degree in Education (MAED) online program satisfies licensure, endorsement, or certification requirements in all states. Licensure and certification is regulated individually by states and no two are exactly alike. Some states have different levels of licensure and/or certification requirements. For example, in Michigan, the MAED online program alone does not lead to State of Michigan endorsement or initial teacher certification. Students who wish to use this program for renewal, endorsement, or certification in their home state should contact their bachelor’s certification institution or their home state department of education for applicable requirements, rules, and regulations of their home state. Students are responsible for determining whether the MAED online program will meet their home state's requirements for certification, licensure, or otherwise advancing a student’s teaching credentials. Contact MSU’s Online MAED academic advisor with questions or, for state department of education contact information, please visit www2.ed.gov/about/contacts/state/index.html.

The requirements for the program must be completed within five years. All course work, including potential transfer and previous MSU course work, must be no older than five years at the time of graduation. Once enrolled in Master of Arts degree in Education, only MSU courses delivered fully online will be accepted for use toward the degree requirements. In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet all requirements specified below with advisor approval.

Admission

Applications for admission to the Master of Arts in Education are reviewed by College of Education faculty who look for evidence of appropriate preparation for advanced professional study at the master's level and the likelihood of success in the distance learning format. Such evidence includes applicant's prior educational record, work experience in educational settings, and a statement of professional goals that is consistent with the intellectual focus and online format of the program. In this statement, applicants must specify their interest in at least one area of concentration and address their personal and professional strengths that support their ability to engage in online learning.

Requirements for the Master of Arts Degree in Education

The program is available only online and only under Plan B (without thesis). The student must complete a total of 30 credits approved by the MAED academic advisor distributed as follows:

DEPARTMENT of COUNSELING, EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY and SPECIAL EDUCATION

Cary J. Roseth, Chairperson

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

The department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree program with a major in special education. This program is a preprofessional program for students who plan to be certified as both a PK-12 special education teacher and an elementary general education teacher. Students in the program work toward certification in the learning disabilities area of special education and in general education in prekindergarten through grade three or grade three through grade six. Upon satisfactory completion of the requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in special education, the bachelor's degree is granted. However, for Michigan State University to recommend a person for a elementary teaching certificate, that person must also complete the requirements for the Teacher Certification Internship Year Studies program described in the section on TEACHER CERTIFICATION in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog.

Admission

To earn a Bachelor of Arts degree in special education, students must apply and be admitted to the Teacher Certification Program administered by the Department of Teacher Education in the College of Education. Refer to Admission to the Teacher Certification Program in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog. Information about admission requirements and the application process can be found at http://education.msu.edu/academics/undergraduate/apply-teacher-prep.asp.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Arts Degree in Special Education

1. The University requirements for bachelor’s degrees as described in the Undergraduate Education section of this catalog; 120 credits, including general elective credits, are required for the Bachelor of Arts degree in Special Education.

   The completion of Mathematics 201 referenced in item 2. b. below may also satisfy the University mathematics requirement.

   The University’s Tier II writing requirement for the Special Education major is met by completing Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education 301. That course is referenced in item 2. d. below.

   CREDITS

2. The following requirements for the major:

   a. Professional Education Courses (19 credits):

      (1) All of the following courses (19 credits):

      | Course Code | Course Title | Credits |

Descriptions of the graduate programs, organized by fields of study in alphabetical order, are presented below.

Students who are enrolled in the Doctor of Philosophy degree program in Educational Psychology and Educational Technology in the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education may elect a graduate specialization in language and literacy. For additional information, refer to the statement on Graduate Specialization in Language and Literacy in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog.

Students who are enrolled in Master of Arts, Educational Specialist, and Doctor of Philosophy degree programs in the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education may elect specializations in Infancy and Early Childhood. For additional information, refer to the statement on Interdepartmental Graduate Specializations in Infancy and Early Childhood in the College of Social Science section of this catalog.

APPLIED BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS

The Master of Arts degree in Applied Behavior Analysis is designed for persons who plan to be involved in the delivery of behavioral services and interventions to public consumers. It provides the opportunity to develop in-depth knowledge and applied competence in the delivery of behavior analysis to improve the quality of life of consumers in various service settings.

The degree is relevant for persons interested in pursuing careers in behavior analysis that require the Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA) credential. The program offers graduate-level course work and supervised fieldwork in behavior analysis required by the Behavior Analyst Certification Board (BACB) to sit for the national Board...
Certification exam, which students complete independently. The program develops knowledge and competencies in the administration of behavior analysis beyond an undergraduate or graduate certificate program. It provides students with skills a BCBA requires, such as strong communication, analytical, and scientist-practitioner skills, as well as interpersonal skills that facilitate collaboration with and leadership of professional groups.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the University and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

An applicant to the Master of Arts degree in Applied Behavior Analysis must:

1. submit both departmental and university application forms.
2. submit three letters of recommendation from persons knowledgeable about the applicant’s academic potential to pursue graduate study and competence or potential to deliver applied behavior analysis services.
3. submit a statement of professional goals that clearly describe the applicant’s reasons for pursuing the master’s degree and the goals that the degree will help them attain.
4. have access to high-speed internet and the appropriate technologies.

Applications are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of a high probability of success. The following factors are significant in determining admission to the Master of Arts degree in Applied Behavior Analysis:

1. A grade-point average of 3.00 or higher in the last two years of undergraduate and all graduate courses.
2. Experience working with children and youth with disabilities in a school or camp or other experience with behavior analysis that is acceptable to the faculty.
3. Professional goals that are consistent with the objectives of the degree program.
4. A test of English language proficiency for students for whom English is not a first language.
5. Submission of Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores.

Admission to the program is competitive and subject to space availability. Not all students who meet the above requirements will be admitted. A student who, in the judgment of the faculty, has not completed the appropriate course work in exceptional children or behavior management may be required to complete such course work in addition to the requirements below. This collateral course work will not count towards degree requirements. Students will be admitted only during fall semester. Applications must be submitted by January 15th.

APPLIED BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS AND AUTISM SPECTRUM DISORDER

Master of Arts

The Master of Arts degree in Applied Behavior Analysis and Autism Spectrum Disorder is designed to prepare students to effectively implement the science of Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) and become experts in autism intervention in schools, clinics, or homes. The program provides the opportunity to develop in-depth knowledge and skills for implementing effective autism interventions based on the principles of Applied Behavior Analysis.

The program offers the graduate-level course work required to be eligible for taking the national examination for certification by the Behavior Analyst Certification Board in accordance with governing bodies in behavior analysis. The program does not include the supervised fieldwork component required for certification eligibility. Students are responsible for securing an appropriate fieldwork site with credentialed supervision and completing their fieldwork independent of the program. Students desiring a program that includes supervised fieldwork should consider the Master of Arts in Applied Behavior Analysis.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

An applicant to the Master of Arts Degree in Applied Behavior Analysis and Autism Spectrum Disorder program must:

1. Submit both departmental and University application forms.
2. Submit three letters of recommendation from professionals knowledgeable about the applicant’s academic potential to pursue graduate study and competence or potential to implement Applied Behavior Analysis with people with autism. It is highly recommended that at least one letter comes from a current or former professor.
3. Submit a statement of professional goals that clearly describe the applicant’s reasons for pursuing the master’s degree and the goals the degree will help them attain.

Applicants are reviewed by faculty who look for indicators of a high probability of success. The following factors are significant in determining admission to the Master of Arts Degree in Applied Behavior Analysis and Autism Spectrum Disorder:
1. A grade-point average of 3.00 or higher in the last two years of undergraduate and graduate courses.
2. Experience working with children and youth with disabilities in a school or other educational setting.
3. Professional goals that are consistent with the objectives of the degree program.
4. A test of English proficiency for students for whom English is not a first language.

Admission to the program is competitive and subject to space and availability. Not all students who meet the above requirements will be admitted. Students will be admitted only during the Fall semester. Applications must be submitted by February 1st.

Requirements for the Master of Arts Degree in Applied Behavior Analysis and Autism Spectrum Disorder

4. Completion of a final evaluation.

APPLIED BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS IN SPECIAL EDUCATION

Graduate Certificate

The Graduate Certificate in Applied Behavior Analysis in Special Education prepares students for roles as behavior analysts in educational and clinical settings. Students will take the course work necessary to be eligible to take and pass the national behavior analyst certification examination developed by the Behavior Analyst Certification Board in accordance with governing bodies in behavior analysis. The certificate is available only online.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the University and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

An applicant for admission to the Graduate Certificate in Applied Behavior Analysis in Special Education must:
1. submit both departmental and university application forms.
2. have a master’s degree or be enrolled in a master’s degree program at Michigan State University.
3. submit three letters of recommendation from persons knowledgeable about the applicant’s academic potential to pursue graduate study and competence or potential to deliver applied behavior analysis or related services.
4. submit a statement of professional goals that clearly describe the applicant’s reasons for pursuing the certificate and the goals that the emphasis area will help them attain.
5. have access to high-speed internet and the appropriate technologies.

Applications are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of a high probability of success. The following factors are significant in determining admission to the emphasis area:
1. A grade-point average of 3.00 or higher in the last two years of undergraduate and all graduate courses.
2. Experience working with children and youth with disabilities in a school or camp or other experience with behavior analysis that is acceptable to the faculty.
3. Professional goals that are consistent with the objectives of the emphasis area.
4. A test of English language proficiency for students for whom English is not a first language.

The certificate requires completion of seven courses. All courses are offered online only. Students are required to have access to high-speed internet and the appropriate technologies. A student who, in the judgment of the faculty, has not completed appropriate courses in exceptional children or behavior management may be required to complete such courses in addition to the requirements below.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

Graduate Certificate

The Graduate Certificate in Educational Psychology is designed to provide educators and non-educators with knowledge and perspectives on learning and development. By understanding the psychological processes that underlie learning, as well as the practices that support these processes, the developmental mechanisms that lead to individual differences, and the impact of motivation, participants will gain deeper insight into the needs of developing learners. The certificate is available only online.
Admission

To be considered for admission to the Graduate Certificate in Educational Psychology an applicant must:
1. have completed a bachelor’s degree.
2. submit the university application form and fee.
3. Complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site.
4. provide transcripts from all previous institutions of higher education.
5. complete a test of English language proficiency if English is not the first language.

Applications are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of a high probability of success.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Doctor of Philosophy

The doctoral program in educational psychology and educational technology is designed for persons who show promise of becoming scholars and leaders in the study of human learning and development in varied educational settings and the study, creation, and use of diverse technologies supporting learning and teaching. The program places emphasis on rigorous scholarship and formulation of analytic perspectives on learning, development, and technology embedded in culture and society. Graduates of this program will be equipped to pursue careers in university research and teaching, research and development of online learning environments in diverse educational settings and to assume leadership roles in school systems and the private sector.

Doctoral students in educational psychology and educational technology focus their studies in one or both of the following emphasis areas:

Educational Psychology. Students study processes of human learning and development in naturally occurring settings such as homes, classrooms, peer groups, workplaces, and laboratories in order to understand and improve educational practice. Program participants often base their analyses in specific domains, including mathematics, literacy, and science.

Educational Technology. Students engage in research and development seeking to understand the pedagogy, policy, and design of media and technologies in support of learning, nationally and internationally, in formal environments such as traditional and online classes as well as in informal environments such as homes and after-school programs.

Students who are enrolled in the Doctor of Philosophy degree program in Educational Psychology and Educational Technology in the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education may elect a specialization in language and literacy. For additional information, refer to the statement on Graduate Specialization in Language and Literacy in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

Persons who hold degrees from a variety of disciplines may apply for admission. The review of applications focuses on previous study and experience, compatibility between academic and professional goals and this doctoral program, and demonstration of potential for successful advanced degree work.

All students admitted to the program begin their studies in fall semester. The deadline for submitting applications is December 1 prior to the year for which admission is sought in order to receive full consideration for financial support. Applications received after this date will be reviewed if space is available in the program.

4. Area of Concentration. At least three additional courses in the student’s area of concentration. Students are encouraged to include some course work from outside the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education. Emphasis area and concentration courses must provide a coherent program of study approved, in advance, by the student’s guidance committee.

5. Pass a departmental preliminary examination, focused on scholarly writing and the critique of research at the end of the first year of doctoral study.
6. Satisfactory completion of a research apprenticeship.
7. Successful completion and defense of the dissertation.
8. Complete 24 credits of CEP 999 Doctoral Dissertation Research. Students may not earn more than 30 credits in CEP 999 Doctoral Dissertation Research.

EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Graduate Certificate

The Graduate Certificate in Educational Technology is designed to assist current educators in becoming better teachers by utilizing new technologies to improve instructional practice. The introduction of new technology in the classroom will help participants re-think their own practice as teachers, evaluate their own beliefs about what helps students learn, and consider new ideas and perspectives that they might otherwise have overlooked or not encountered.

The scheduling of the certificate program allows flexibility to accommodate both full-time students and working professionals by offering accelerated summer study programs, as well as online and face-to-face courses.

This certificate program has been identified as the first three courses of the Educational Technology NP Endorsement concentration.

This program is not accredited by the Kentucky Education Professional Standards Board and is not recognized for initial, additional, or renewal of certification or salary enhancement (rank change) for K-12 educators in Kentucky.

Admission

To be considered for admission into the Graduate Certificate in Educational Technology, applicants must have completed a bachelor’s degree. For additional information, refer to the Admission section in the Graduate Education section of this catalog.

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Educational Technology

Students must complete all of the following courses (9 credits):

- CEP 810 Teaching for Understanding with Technology 3
- CEP 811 Adapting Innovative Technologies to Education 3
- CEP 812 Applying Educational Technology to Issues of Practice 3

K12 COMPUTER SCIENCE EDUCATION

The Graduate Certificate in K12 Computer Science Education prepares K12 teachers to teach computational thinking to learners at the elementary and secondary levels. Domains include computational thinking, algorithmic thinking, breaking down complex problems, abstracting and generalizing principles to solve problems, and development of creative thinking. Teachers learn to teach these concepts and skills through culturally relevant pedagogy, attending to how culture and context impact student learning.

Admission

To be considered for admission into the Graduate Certificate in K12 Computer Science Education, applicants must have completed a bachelor’s degree.

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in K12 Computer Science Education

Students must complete 9 credits from the following courses:

- CEP 814 Computational Thinking for K12 Educators 3
- CEP 824 Programming Concepts for K12 Educators 3
- CEP 833 Creativity in K12 Computing Education 3

MEASUREMENT AND QUANTITATIVE METHODS

Doctor of Philosophy

The doctoral program in measurement and quantitative methods is designed for persons who hope to develop and investigate methods of assessment and quantitative analysis, as well as for individuals who wish to become experts in the application and use of such methods. Graduates may teach courses in educational measurement, statistics, and program evaluation in colleges and universities and are often involved in research on problems of measurement and quantitative methods. Graduates also occupy leadership positions in educational, governmental, and other agencies concerned with educational measurement, statistics, and program evaluation. Students in the program learn to analyze research data and have opportunities to design and execute research studies and to consult on research design, data analysis, and evaluation. Students may develop and evaluate new statistical and psychometric models for use in educational research and behavioral science.

Admission

Applications for admission to the program are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of a high probability of success. Such indications include a high level of academic performance, a high score on the Graduate Record Examination General Test, and a statement of professional goals that is consistent with the objectives of the program. The applicant must submit three letters of recommendation, including at least one letter of recommendation from a professor or employer.

The applicant is required to submit supplemental documents and information as determined by the program, as well as the university application.

Persons are admitted to the program for fall semester only. The deadline for submitting applications is December 1 of each year for admission the following fall semester. If space is available, late applications may be considered.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Measurement and Quantitative Methods

The student’s program plan of course work must fulfill the requirements described below. In addition to completing the required course work, students should participate in measurement and quantitative methods seminars and satisfy the College of Education breadth requirements which require basic knowledge in at least four of the following areas of general professional education: administration; curriculum; psychological foundations; research and evaluation methods; social, philosophical, and historical foundations; motor development and motor learning; biological foundations; ethical considerations; and issues of diversity in education.

1. Core Courses. All of the following courses (27 to 29 credits):
   - CEP 900 Proseminar in Educational Psychology and Educational Technology I 3
   - CEP 921 Psychometric Theory I 3
   - CEP 923 Item Response Theory 3
   - CEP 930 Educational Inquiry 3
   - CEP 932 Quantitative Methods in Educational Research I 3
   - CEP 933 Quantitative Methods in Educational Research II 3
   - CEP 934 Multivariate Data Analysis I 4
   - CEP 935 Advanced Topics in Multivariate Data Analysis II 4
   - CEP 995 Practicum in Research Design and Data Analysis 1 to 3

2. Concentration Courses.
   a. Measurement Majors: The following course:
      - CEP 922 Psychometric Theory II 3
   b. Quantitative Majors: Two of the following courses:
      - EC 820A Econometrics IA 3

3. Cognate Courses:
   a. Measurement Majors: Three of the following courses:
      - CEP 938 Latent Variable and Structural Equation Modeling 3
      - CEP 982 Seminar in Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education 3
      - CEP 991B Special Topics in Educational Statistics and Research Design 4
   b. Quantitative Majors: Three of the following courses:
      - CEP 938 Latent Variable and Structural Equation Modeling 4
      - CEP 982 Seminar in Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education 3

   - CEP 997 Advanced Topics in Statistics 3

4. Successful completion and defense of the dissertation. Students must complete 24 credits of CEP 999 Doctoral Dissertation Research but may not earn more than 30 credits.

ONLINE TEACHING AND LEARNING

Graduate Certificate

The Graduate Certificate in Online Teaching and Learning prepares individuals to design and teach online courses. Students learn to apply the latest theories of learning and pedagogy while acquiring skills with new multimedia and networking tools to create exciting new online learning environments. The schedule of the certificate program allows flexibility to accommodate both full-time students and working professionals.

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Online Teaching and Learning

1. Complete all of the following courses (9 credits):
   - CEP 813 Electronic Portfolios for Teaching and Learning 3
   - CEP 817 Learning Technology through Design 3
   - CEP 820 Teaching Students Online 3

REHABILITATION COUNSELING

Master of Arts

Rehabilitation counseling is a profession devoted to enhancing the quality of life of individuals who have physical, sensory, mental, or emotional, neuro-developmental, or other types of disabilities. Rehabilitation counselors provide counseling and other coordinated services to such individuals in the public, nonprofit, and private sectors of rehabilitation practice. The master's degree program in rehabilitation counseling emphasizes the philosophy, process, and professional discipline of rehabilitation. The program also emphasizes vocational assessment, vocational placement, and career development for persons with disabilities.
2. A written statement of academic goals and career studies in rehabilitation counseling. Appropriate evidence of his or her expressed desire to pursue advanced graduate and professional experience. There should be in each applicant’s background a pattern of experience that supports consideration is given to the applicant’s previous academic

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

Consideration is given to the applicant’s previous academic and professional experience. There should be in each applicant's background a pattern of experience that supports his or her expressed desire to pursue advanced graduate studies in rehabilitation counseling. Appropriate evidence of such experience should be reflected in the applicant's letters of recommendation. The following are factors significant in determining admission to the program:

1. A bachelor's degree in an appropriate field from a recognized educational institution, with a grade–point average of 3.0 (B) or better in the last two years of undergraduate study;
2. A written statement of academic goals and career objectives that is 1 or 2 pages single spaced typed in length, that describes the applicant's professional goals as they relate to the Master of Arts degree program in Rehabilitation Counseling.
3. Scores from the Graduate Record Examination General Test if the applicant's grade–point average is less than 3.0;
4. Three letters of recommendation, with at least two from professors or employers.

The applicant is required to submit a departmental application form, as well as the university application form. Upon request for admission to the program, the departmental application form is mailed to the applicant with the university application form.

REHABILITATION COUNSELOR EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy

The mission of the Rehabilitation Counselor Education Doctor of Philosophy degree program is to prepare graduates to work as rehabilitation counselor educators, supervisors, researchers, and practitioners in academic and clinical settings. The program is designed to extend the knowledge base of the rehabilitation counseling profession in a climate of scholarly inquiry, and to prepare students to inform professional practice by generating new knowledge for the profession. It also supports faculty and students in publishing and presenting the results of scholarly inquiry, while equipping students to assume positions of leadership in the rehabilitation counseling profession.

The Rehabilitation Counselor Education Doctor of Philosophy degree program is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). CACREP accreditation denotes a commitment to program excellence and indicates to the public at large that our program is fulfilling its commitment to educational quality. Students enrolled in the program are expected to abide by the ethical principles of the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC) and American Counseling Association (ACA).

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

To be admitted to the doctoral program in Rehabilitation Counselor Education, applicants must submit both the university application forms and applicable application fee. Persons are admitted to the program once a year with enrollment starting fall semester. The deadline for submitting applications for admission is December 1st for the following fall semester.

Applicants are evaluated by program faculty based on:

1. A grade-point average of 3.3 or higher in master’s degree course work in rehabilitation counseling or a related field.
2. Academic aptitude for doctoral-level study.
3. Letters of personal and professional recommendation regarding the applicant’s academic capability and professional and personal qualifications.
4. Relevant post-master’s professional work experience in rehabilitation counseling.
5. Fitness for the profession, including self-awareness and emotional stability.
6. Professional goals and interests that are compatible with the mission and objectives of the program.
7. Oral and written communication skills.
9. Potential for scholarship, professional leadership, and advocacy.
10. Satisfactory scores on the Graduate Record Examination

During the doctoral program admissions process, applicant curricular experiences are evaluated to verify completion of course work including (a) CACREP entry-level core curricular standards, (b) CACREP entry-level professional practice standards, and (c) CACREP entry-level curricular requirements of a specialty area so that any missing content can be completed before or concurrently with initial doctoral-level counselor education course work.

Master of Arts

The Master of Arts Degree in School Psychology explores the theoretical, philosophical, and professional discipline of school psychology. This program's requirements are met as an integral part of the educational specialist or doctoral program, with a planned sequence of courses and practica experiences. There is no terminal master's program.

Admission

Students interested in graduate study in school psychology should apply directly to the Educational Specialist or Doctor of Philosophy program in School Psychology. Master of Arts degree program requirements are incorporated into and are met as a part of those programs. Students do not apply separately for admission to the Master of Arts program.

Requirements for the Master of Arts Degree in School Psychology

The program is available only under Plan B (without thesis). The student must complete a total of 30 credits distributed as follows:
1. A minimum of 15 credits in school psychology courses at the 800-level or above.
2. A minimum of 3 credits in child development courses at the 800-level or above.
3. A minimum of 12 credits in courses in areas such as learning and development, or research and evaluation, as approved by the student's guidance committee.
4. Completion of a final examination or evaluation.

Educational Specialist

The Educational Specialist degree program in school psychology is designed for persons who plan to devote their professional careers to school psychological services and who desire to achieve a level of proficiency that will enable them to assume leadership roles. The program consists of a planned sequence of courses, practica, and internship experiences that are complemented by graduate study in educational psychology and supporting disciplines.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

An individual should have a bachelor's degree in psychology or education or substantial course work in psychology or education to be considered for admission. A person with a master's degree in psychology or a related field may also apply for admission.

To be admitted to the program, a person with a bachelor's, but not a master's, degree must have a minimum grade-point average of 3.0 (B) for the last two years of undergraduate work. A person with a master's degree must have a minimum grade-point average of 3.5 (B+) for prior graduate work. An admissions interview may be required.

Applicants should provide a written statement to the effect that they will be available to serve an internship of 1200 clock
Requirements for the Educational Specialist Degree in School Psychology

Students must meet the requirements specified below. Students who hold a Master of Arts degree in School Psychology may already meet some of these requirements.

4. Complete 12 credits of electives, 3 of which must address working with families, as approved in consultation with the student’s advisor.

Doctor of Philosophy

The Doctor of Philosophy degree program with a major in School Psychology is designed to equip psychologists with the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to provide quality psychological services to children, youth, and families in multiple settings, as well as to conduct research in related areas. The program includes a planned sequence of course work in school psychology and supporting disciplines, complimented by practica and internship experiences. Students in the program receive the training necessary to become both a certified school psychologist in Michigan, as well as a nationally certified school psychologist. Students are also license-eligible as psychologists, pending completion of state-level licensure requirements.

The Doctor of Philosophy degree in School Psychology is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of the American Psychological Association (APA) and approved by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP). The doctoral program is also approved the Michigan Department of Education. Students who are enrolled in the program are expected to abide by the ethical principles of the APA and NASP.

Admission

To be admitted to the doctoral program in school psychology, applicants must submit both the university application forms and applicable application fee, and must have:

1. A bachelor's degree in education or psychology, or in a related field. A master’s degree or a teaching certificate is not required, but evidence of experience working with children, youth, and families in school, community, agency, or research settings is desirable.
2. A grade of 3.0 or higher in the following courses or their equivalent: Inferential Statistics, Child Development, and Abnormal Psychology.
3. A grade-point average of 3.0 or higher in the last two years of the bachelor's degree program.
4. A grade-point average of 3.5 or higher in courses taken at the master’s degree level or beyond.
5. Professional goals and interests compatible with the program objectives and philosophy as evident in an applicant’s statement of Professional Goals and Experiences, as judged by the faculty.
6. Strong personal recommendations from individuals who are knowledgeable about the applicant's academic performance and ability to work effectively with people, as judged by the faculty.
7. Satisfactory scores on the Graduate Record Examination General Test. This typically means scores in the above average range.
8. Evidence of previous research experience such as a master’s thesis or scholarly paper, work on a research project, publication in a professional journal, or presentation at a professional conference.
10. An on-campus, web, or equivalent interview.
11. A completed Criminal Background Statement of Understanding Form.
12. A resume or curriculum vita.

Persons are admitted to the program once a year with enrollment starting fall semester. The deadline for submitting applications for admission is December 1st for the following fall semester.

Requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in School Psychology

The student must meet the requirements specified below. Students who hold an Educational Specialist or a Master of Arts degree in School Psychology may already meet some of these requirements. Student's doctoral plans must be approved by faculty and be consistent with the following requirements.

1. Research. Complete 15 credits of course work which includes CEP 995 Practicum in Research Design and Data Analysis (3 credits), one additional research design course, and three quantitative/qualitative methods courses as approved by the student’s academic advisor.
2. Ethical and Legal Standards. Complete CEP 963 Ethics in Counseling and School Psychology (3 credits).
3. Individual and Cultural Diversity. Complete 9 credits of course work which includes CEP 865 Development and Psychopathology Across the Lifespan.
Assessment and CEP 881 Social and Emotional Assessment and Intervention. Complete 6 credits of CEP 893K Practicum in School Psychology during the second year of study.

5. Assessment. Complete 6 credits of course work including CEP 880 Cognitive Assessment and CEP 881 Social and Emotional Assessment and Intervention.

6. Intervention. Complete 9 credits of course work including CEP 918 Theories of School-Based Psychological Interventions, CEP 886 Psychological Assessment and Intervention I, and CEP 888 Theories of Child Psychotherapy.

7. Supervision. Complete at least one semester of CEP 993K Practicum in PhD School Psychology (3 credits), which includes a supervision experience.

9. Internship. Participate in the Association of Psychology Postdoctoral and Internship Centers (APPIC) national match and complete a 2000-hour Internship in Psychology at an APPIC-approved internship site and at least 3 credits in CEP 894K Internship in PhD School Psychology, for supervision purposes, during the time of the internship.

10. Dissertation. Successful completion and defense of the dissertation. Students may not earn more than 30 credits in CEP 999 Doctoral Dissertation Research, of which 24 credits are required.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Graduate study in special education leads to the Master of Arts or Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Persons who hold valid State of Michigan teaching certificates in elementary or secondary education and who wish endorsements in special education should refer to the statement on Other Educational Opportunities for Teachers in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog.

Master of Arts

The master’s degree program with a major in special education is designed for persons who plan to be involved in the education of students with disabilities. Students who are enrolled in the program must complete one of the following areas of emphasis: autism spectrum disorder, or learning disabilities.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

An applicant for admission to the master’s degree program in special education is required to submit:

1. Both departmental and university application forms.

2. Three letters of recommendation from persons knowledgeable about the applicant’s academic potential to pursue graduate study and teaching competence or potential.

A statement of professional goals that clearly describes the applicant's reasons for pursuing a master’s degree and the goals that the emphasis area will help the student attain.

Applications are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of a high probability of success. The following factors are significant in determining admission to the program:

1. A grade-point average of 3.0 or higher in the last 60 credit hours attempted of undergraduate and all graduate courses.

2. A valid teaching certificate in elementary or secondary education or eligibility for admission to the teacher certification program.

3. Experience working with children and youth with disabilities (e.g., in a school or camp emphasis area) that is acceptable to the faculty. The experience should be related to the applicant’s planned area of emphasis.

4. Professional goals that are consistent with the objectives of the program.

5. A test of English language proficiency for students for whom English is not a first language.

Students who are seeking certification or endorsement through these emphasis areas and who do not have a valid teaching certificate must complete the requirements for teacher certification in elementary or secondary education, in addition to meeting the requirements for the master’s degree in special education with an emphasis in autism spectrum disorder, or learning disabilities.

Students who enter the master's degree program with a valid teaching certificate in elementary or secondary education and who desire an additional endorsement in an area of special education also must meet the endorsement requirements for autism spectrum disorder, or learning disabilities.

Requirements for the Master of Arts Degree in Special Education

In addition to a formal evaluation, the student must complete one of the following areas of emphasis: autism spectrum disorder, or learning disabilities. The total number of credits required for the Master of Arts in Special Education varies according to the area of emphasis a student selects. The program is available only online and only under Plan B (without thesis).

Autism Spectrum Disorder

Two programs in autism spectrum disorders (ASD) are available; autism spectrum disorder or autism spectrum disorder with an autism spectrum disorder endorsement. All graduate-level courses are offered via a combination of web-based, video conference, and phone/video-phone technologies. Students are required to have access to the appropriate technologies and the Internet. A student who, in the judgment of the faculty, has not completed appropriate courses in exceptional children or behavior management may be required to complete such courses in addition to the courses listed below.

Autism Spectrum Disorder - Master of Arts with an Autism Spectrum Disorder Endorsement

Students must complete a minimum of 30 credits if they possess a teaching certificate and an initial endorsement in special education. A student who possesses a teaching certificate and is seeking an initial endorsement in special education will be required to complete an additional 6 credits (3 credits of CEP 840 and 3 credits of CEP 893J) for a total of 36 credits. A student who earned a teaching certificate and endorsement in learning disabilities from Michigan State University can transfer 12 credits of approved course work and complete this program upon the completion of 18 credits.

1. All of the following courses (30 credits):

   CEP 801A Collaboration and Consultation in Special Education 3
   CEP 803A Assessment of Students with Mild Disabilities 3
   CEP 841 Classroom and Behavior Management in the Inclusive Classroom 3
   CEP 842 Content-Area Instruction for Students with Mild Disabilities 3
CEP 843 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Characteristics and Educational Implications 3
CEP 844 Applied Behavior Analysis for Teachers 3
CEP 845 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Assessment and Intervention 3
CEP 846 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Advanced Topics 3
CEP 850 Technology for Students with Disabilities 3
CEP 894J Special Education Practicum: Children and Youth with Autism Spectrum Disorders 3

Autism Spectrum Disorder - Endorsement only
Students must complete a total of 21 credits. The autism spectrum disorder endorsement only is available to students who already possess a special education endorsement in another disability area. Students who are seeking their initial endorsement in special education in the area of autism spectrum disorder must follow the requirements above under the heading Autism Spectrum Disorder – Master of Arts with an Autism Spectrum Disorder Endorsement.

1. All of the following courses (21 credits):
   CEP 841 Classroom and Behavior Management in the Inclusive Classroom 3
   CEP 843 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Characteristics and Educational Implications 3
   CEP 844 Applied Behavior Analysis for Teachers 3
   CEP 845 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Assessment and Intervention 3
   CEP 846 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Advanced Topics 3
   CEP 894J Special Education Practicum: Children and Youth with Autism Spectrum Disorders 6

Learning Disabilities
Two programs in learning disabilities are available; Master of Arts without a learning disabilities endorsement or a Master of Arts with a learning disabilities endorsement. All graduate-level courses are offered via a combination of web-based, video conference, and phone/video-phone technologies, with the exception of the Special Education Internship, which is required for students seeking an endorsement. Students are required to have access to the appropriate technologies and the internet.

Learning Disabilities - Master of Arts
This program is designed for students who already have an endorsement to teach students with learning disabilities or who are seeking a master’s degree that will permit them to improve their knowledge of learning difficulties and disabilities. Students who complete these requirements will not receive an endorsement in learning disabilities.

Students must complete 30 credits and may be able to transfer 6 to 12 credits of course work from their post-baccalaureate program into the master’s area of emphasis with advisor approval. The course work must meet the area of emphasis, department, college, and university requirements. The student’s area of emphasis must be approved by the advisor.

1. All of the following courses (21 credits):
   CEP 801A Collaboration and Consultation in Special Education 3
   CEP 803A Assessment of Students with Mild Disabilities 3
   CEP 804B Advanced Diagnosis and Remediation for Students with Mild Impairments 3
   CEP 840 Policies, Practices, and Perspectives in Special Education 3
   CEP 841 Classroom and Behavior Management in the Inclusive Classroom 3
   CEP 842 Content-Area Instruction for Students with Mild Disabilities 3
   CEP 844 Applied Behavioral Analysis for Teachers 3
   CEP 850 Technology and Literacy for Students with Mild Disabilities 3
   CEP 893F Special Education Internship: Teaching Children with Learning Disabilities 3

2. One of the following courses (3 credits):
   CEP 802A Reflective and Inquiry in Teaching Special Education I: Literacy Disabilities 3
   TE 846 Accommodating Differences in Literacy Learners 3

Doctor of Philosophy
The doctoral program with a major in special education is available to students who show promise of becoming outstanding leaders in the administration of special education programs or in college instruction. Students’ programs of study are planned to develop mastery of a comprehensive field, to foster creative approaches to the educational problems of exceptional children, and to encourage a breadth of understanding of related disciplines.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission
Applications for admission to the program are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of a high probability of success. Such indications include a high level of academic performance, a high score on the Graduate Record Examination General Test, and a statement of professional goals that is consistent with the objectives of the program. The applicant must submit three letters of recommendation including at least one from a professor or employer. The applicant is required to submit the university application and applicable application fee.

Persons are admitted to the program once a year with enrollment starting fall semester only. The deadline for submitting applications is December 1 of each year for admission the following fall semester. If space is available in the program, late applications will be considered.
Requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Special Education

Students must meet the requirements specified below:

4. Successful completion and defense of the dissertation. Students may not earn more than 30 credits in CEP 999 Doctoral Dissertation Research.

SPECIAL EDUCATION LEADERSHIP: MULTI-TIERED SYSTEMS OF SUPPORT

The Master of Arts degree in Special Education Leadership: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) program is designed to prepare students to become experts in the implementation of MTSS. It provides the opportunity to improve student achievement and reduce problem behavior by accurately identifying students’ needs through comprehensive assessment and then providing evidenced-based interventions in academic and behavior supports. MTSS also provides academic and behavioral support to students who might be at risk of school failure, including facilitating the identification of and intervention for students who may have disabilities. The goal and purpose of MTSS is to create a positive school climate that supports the academic, behavioral, and social needs of all students through forms of disciplined inquiry and data-informed decision-making.

Graduates of this program will obtain the skills necessary to make databased decisions for students and be able to implement MTSS to facilitate evidence-based behavior and academic learning in the classroom setting.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the University and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

An applicant to the Master of Arts degree in Special Education Leadership: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) program must:

1. Submit both departmental and University application forms.
2. Submit three letters of recommendation from persons knowledgeable about the applicant’s academic potential to pursue graduate study and competence or potential to implement MTSS.
3. Submit a statement of professional goals that clearly describe the applicant’s reasons for pursuing the master’s degree and the goals that the emphasis area will help him/her attain.

Applications are reviewed by faculty who look for indicators of a high probability of success. The following factors are significant in determining admission to the Master of Arts degree in Special Education Leadership: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS):

1. A grade-point average of 3.00 or higher in the last two years of all undergraduate and graduate courses.
2. Experience working with children and youth with disabilities in a school or other educational setting.
3. Professional goals that are consistent with the objectives of the degree program.
4. A test of English proficiency for students for whom English is not a first language.

Admission to the program is competitive and subject to space and availability. Not all students who meet the above requirements will be admitted. Students will be admitted only during summer and fall semesters. Applications must be submitted by February 1st.

Requirements for the Master of Arts Degree in Special Education Leadership: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support

The program is available only online and under Plan B (non-thesis). Students must complete a total of 30 credits distributed as follows:

1. All of the following courses (30 credits):
   - CEP 801A Collaboration and Consultation in Special Education 3
   - CEP 802A Reflection and Inquiry in Teaching Special Education I: Mild Impairment 3
   - CEP 803A Assessment of Students with Mild Disabilities 3
   - CEP 804B Advanced Diagnosis and Remediation for Students with Literacy Disabilities 3
   - CEP 809 Data-Driven Instruction within Multi-Tiered Systems of Support 3
   - CEP 825 Capstone in Multi-Tiered Systems of Support 3
   - CEP 840 Policies, Practices, and Perspectives in Special Education 3
   - CEP 841 Classroom and Behavior Management in the Inclusive Classroom 3
   - CEP 842 Content-Area Instruction for Students with Mild Disabilities 3
   - CEP 844 Applied Behavior Analysis for Teachers 3
2. Completion of a final evaluation.
SPECIAL EDUCATION LEADERSHIP: MULTI-TIERED SYSTEMS OF SUPPORT

Graduate Certificate

The Graduate Certificate in Special Education Leadership: Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) is designed to prepare students to become experts in the implementation of MTSS. It provides the opportunity to improve student achievement and reduce problem behavior by accurately identifying students’ needs through comprehensive assessment and then providing evidenced-based interventions in academic and behavior supports. Students who are interested in obtaining school administrator or central office administrator certification, either in addition to or apart from earning a graduate degree in a program that is administered by the Department of Educational Administration, should consult with an academic advisor to ensure that they complete the required courses. Students seeking Graduate Certificates in Teaching and Learning in Postsecondary Education or Urban Education must consult with the certificate coordinator to ensure that they complete an approved program of study.

GRADUATE SPECIALIZATION IN ECONOMICS OF EDUCATION

The Graduate Specialization in Economics of Education, which is administered by the College of Education, is designed to provide students with advanced statistical training and understanding of the application of these methods to key educational topics, with particular emphasis on use of economic methods and theories. The specialization is available as an elective to students who are enrolled in doctoral degree programs at Michigan State University. With the approval of the department and college that administers the student’s degree program, the courses that are used to satisfy the specialization may also be used to satisfy the requirements for the doctoral degree. The student’s program of study must be approved by the advisor for the specialization.

Requirements for the Graduate Specialization in Economics of Education

Students must complete the following with a 3.5 grade-point average in courses across the specialization (18 credits):

1. Both of the following courses with a grade of 3.0 or higher in each course: (6 credits):
   - EC 820A Econometrics IA
   - EC 820B Econometrics IB

2. One additional 3-credit graduate-level advanced statistics or econometrics course as determined by the student’s guidance committee.

3. One of the following courses (3 credits):
   - AFRE 805 Microeconomic Analysis
   - EC 812A Microeconomics I

4. Both of the following courses (6 credits):
   - EAD 932 Education Policy Implementation
   - EAD 933 Evaluation of Education Policy Implementation

5. One of the following courses (3 credits):
   - EAD 907 Education Policy for Immigrant and English Language Learner Students
   - EAD 925 Policy and Practice in Education
   - EAD 926 School Finance and Operations
   - EAD 948 Advanced Economics of Education
   - EAD 949 Advanced Seminar in Education Policy

6. Submit a dissertation that, in the judgment of the student’s dissertation committee, represents the integration of education policy and social sciences and the student’s primary field and includes research that is relevant to practical issues in United States education.

EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Doctor of Education

The innovative Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership (Ed.D.) aims to achieve high levels of quality and relevance in the preparation of executive educational leaders. In addition, the program seeks to engage faculty and students in the broader Michigan community with the intention of working collaboratively toward effective schools, vital communities, and a re-invigorated state. It is a specialized program in advanced educational leadership practice and is tailored to the needs and interests of targeted students. The program has multiple goals: promoting continuous improvement of schools systems in order to best serve all students; guiding assessment of the politics and policy contexts of schooling; providing opportunities and training for civic engagement with professional and community partners in order to deliberate issues of mutual concern democratically; and engaging in... rigorous collaborative research through implementation and evaluation of a creative community action project or through a project designed in consultation with a client organization.

The program is designed for educators and other practitioners who have aspirations for improving their own leadership practice, for developing leadership capacity within their organizations and communities, and for making significant contributions to their local communities and to the future of Michigan. Most graduates with this degree will pursue system-level leadership in various education agencies, including local and regional school districts, state educational agencies, and professional educational associations. Graduates will also be prepared to teach in community colleges and regional universities, or to hold adjunct or clinical positions in research universities, or other types of educational leadership positions. Graduates of the program with appropriate prior credentials and experience will qualify for the Michigan Central Office Administrator endorsement.

The program consists of a minimum of 45 credits of graduate study beyond the master’s degree. In addition to meeting the requirements of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

Applicants to the Doctor of Education degree in Educational Leadership should have leadership experience in a school and hold a master’s degree in education or its equivalent.

Applicants must:
1. submit a goal statement.
2. submit three letters of recommendation from persons who are acquainted with the applicant’s academic and professional experience, performance, and potential.

Applicants may be required to participate in an interview and to submit a sample of scholarly or professional writing.

EDUCATION POLICY

Doctor of Philosophy

The Doctor of Philosophy in Education Policy is designed for persons who show promise of becoming scholars and leaders in state, national, and international policy communities. The program prepares scholars and leaders to understand, evaluate, and implement education policy analysis in universities, research organizations, government agencies, philanthropies and other institutions in both the public and private sectors. Students will have opportunities to develop analytical perspectives on current issues in educational policy and to investigate how these issues shape organizations, practice and learning. Students will acquire an understanding of different contexts for educational-policy formation. They will master the skills essential for policy research and analysis.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

Persons who hold bachelor’s or master’s degrees from a variety of disciplines may apply for admission to this doctoral program. Applicants with limited backgrounds in education or the underlying policy disciplines of political science, sociology, history, and economics, may be required to complete collateral work that will not count toward the degree requirements.

The review of applications focuses on previous study and experience, compatibility between academic and professional goals and this doctoral program, and demonstration of potential for successful advanced degree work.

DEPARTMENT of KINESIOLOGY

Karin Pfeiffer, Chairperson

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

The department offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology with an emphasis on relationships between physical activity in human beings and various sciences. Students will gain an understanding of the development, interpretation, application, and dissemination of knowledge that relates physical activity to human well-being.

KINESIOLOGY

The major in kinesiology places emphasis on the attainment of disciplinary knowledge in the anatomical, biomechanical, developmental, physiological, and neurological aspects of physical activity, explores how physical activity relates to human well-being, and offers an area of emphasis in exercise science.

The bachelor’s degree program in kinesiology is designed to prepare students to enter a variety of fields associated with sport, exercise science, and allied health services. Students who graduate from this program often enter professional exercise science programs or graduate studies in kinesiology.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Science Degree in Kinesiology

1. The University requirements for bachelor’s degrees as described in the Undergraduate Education section of this catalog; 120 credits, including general elective credits, are required for the Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology.

2. The following requirements for the major:
   a. All of the following courses with a minimum grade of 2.0 (21 credits):
      CEM 141 General Chemistry
      KIN 173 Foundations of Kinesiology
      KIN 218 Applied Human Anatomy
      MTH 103 College Algebra
      PSL 250 Introductory Physiology
   b. All of the following courses with a minimum grade-point average of 2.0 (15 credits):
      KIN 121 The Healthy Lifestyle
      KIN 250 Measurement in Kinesiology
      KIN 310 Physiological Bases of Physical Activity
      KIN 330 Biomechanics Physical Activity
      KIN 360 Physical Growth and Motor Behavior
The Minor in Health Promotion is designed to assist students in understanding health issues that will serve as a basis for personal and professional growth and positive lifestyle changes. The minor, which is multidisciplinary, is administered by the Department of Kinesiology.

With the approval of the department and college that administer the student's degree program, courses that are used to satisfy the requirements for the minor may also be used to satisfy the requirements for the bachelor's degree.

Requirements for the Minor in Health Promotion

The student must complete (18 credits):

1. All of the following courses (9 credits):
   - HNF 150 Introduction to Human Nutrition
   - KIN 121 The Healthy Lifestyle
   - PSY 320 Health Psychology

2. At least 9 credits from the following courses:
   - ANP 270 Women and Health: Anthropological and International Perspectives
   - ANP 370 Culture, Health, and Illness
   - CEP 260 Dynamics of Personal Adjustment
   - CEP 261 Substance Abuse

   - PHL 453 Ethical Issues in Global Public Health
   - PSY 333 The Neurobiology of Food Intake and Overeating
   - SOC 475 Health and Society

GRADUATE STUDY

The department offers programs in kinesiology leading to the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees and programs in sport coaching and leadership leading to a Graduate Certificate and a Master of Science degree. A Master of Science degree in Athletic Training is also available. Students who are enrolled in Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degree programs in the Department of Kinesiology may elect specializations in Infancy and Early Childhood. For additional information, refer to the statement on Interdepartmental Graduate Specializations in Infancy and Early Childhood in the College of Social Science section of this catalog.

ATHLETIC TRAINING

The Master of Science degree in Athletic Training prepares students to provide healthcare to physically active patients in coordination with other allied health professionals. Athletic trainers provide preventative services, emergency care, clinical diagnosis, therapeutic intervention and rehabilitation of injuries and medical conditions in a variety of healthcare settings. Athletic trainers work under the direction of a physician as required by state licensure statutes.

The Michigan State University athletic training degree blends clinical and academic learning experiences. Athletic training students are exposed to foundational and advanced clinical reasoning, state-of-the-art health care equipment, and patient-oriented research. Students who complete this degree will be eligible to take the Board of Certification (BOC) examination. The Master of Science degree in Athletic Training is designed to prepare students for job opportunities in professional, collegiate, high school, clinical, industrial settings, military and performing arts.

Admission

To be considered for admission to the Master of Science degree in Athletic Training, applicants must have completed a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution. Admission into the program is based on a combination of the following factors:

1. Have completed an application for graduate study.
2. Previous academic experience and performance as indicated by transcripts from previous degrees including a competitive cumulative grade-point average of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale.
3. Personal goals statement of up to 500 words, covering the following items: academic background, the development of your interest in athletic training, reasons for wanting to enter this program, qualities you possess which will enhance your athletic training skills and aid in achieving your career objective(s).
4. Competitive scores on the Graduate Record Examination and Test of English as a Foreign Language (for international students).
5. Three letters of recommendation.
6. Minimum of 75 observation hours under supervision of a certified Athletic Trainer.
7. Interview with the Michigan State University Athletic Training Admissions Board.
8. The following prerequisite or equivalent courses with a grade-point average of 2.5 or higher: Introduction to Athletic Injury (3 credits); First Aid/CPR/AED (3 credits) or current professional rescuers certification card; Exercise Physiology and Laboratory (3 credits); Biomechanics (3 credits); Anatomy with Laboratory (3 credits); Physiology (3 credits); Chemistry (3 credits); Physics (3 credits); Medical Terminology (1 credit); Research Methods or Statistics (3 credits); Biology (3 credits); and Psychology (3 credits).

Requirements for the Master of Science Degree in Athletic Training

The Master of Science degree in Athletic Training is available only under Plan B (without thesis). Students must complete 54 credits for the degree.

KINESIOLOGY

Graduate study in kinesiology provides opportunities for students to specialize in areas leading to the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. The programs are designed to prepare individuals for professional positions as educators, researchers, and consultants in a variety of sports, health, and educational contexts. Collaborative course work, laboratory and field experiences, clinical placements, and research are available with other departments and schools both at Michigan State University and at other universities, as well as with various community agencies.

Master of Science

The primary objective of the master's degree program in kinesiology is to help students to acquire a breadth of knowledge grounded in theory, to gain expertise in one or more areas of specialization, and to develop competence in methods of inquiry. The program follows the guidelines that were adopted by the National Association for Sport and Physical Education (NASPE).

A range of relevant courses and experiences can be incorporated into the student's program to satisfy individual needs and interests.

Five major areas of study within the discipline of kinesiology are available to master's students:

- Cognitive and Motor Neuroscience
- Exercise Physiology
- Psychosocial Aspects of Sport and Physical Activity
- Strength and Conditioning
- Student Athlete Development

For each student, one of these five areas of study is designated as the concentration.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

To be considered for admission into the master's program, applicants must have completed an undergraduate degree. Factors considered in admissions decisions include (a) clarity of applicant's professional goals; (b) relationship between the program and the applicant's goals; (c) previous academic experience and performance as indicated by transcripts from previous degrees including a competitive cumulative grade-point average of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale; (d) competitive scores on the Graduate Record Examination (and Test of English as a Foreign Language for international students); (e) three letters of recommendation.

Requirements for the Master of Science Degree in Kinesiology

Breadth requirement. Students who have not completed an undergraduate degree in kinesiology (or similarly named program such as physical education or exercise science) must complete a minimum of 6 credits of Kinesiology courses representing at least two of nine different disciplinary areas (adapted physical activity, athletic training, biomechanics, coaching, exercise physiology, growth and motor development, psychosocial aspects of sport and physical activity, sport administration, student athlete development) outside of the student’s major area/concentration, as approved by the student’s guidance committee. Credits earned in 200 or 300 level courses may be used to fulfill the breadth requirement, but will not count toward the master’s degree.

The program is available under both Plan A (with thesis) and Plan B (without thesis). Students must complete 30 credits and meet the requirements specified below:

SPORT COACHING, LEADERSHIP AND ADMINISTRATION

The Master of Science degree in Sport Coaching, Leadership, and Administration provides opportunities for students to develop expertise in learning and using scientific knowledge and best practices related to coaching and developing athletes and leading sports programs at the intercollegiate, interscholastic, community sports, and university levels. It facilitates interdisciplinary knowledge in various issues related to coaching across the lifespan. Practical experiences are available at high schools, within the university athletic department, and in other sports-related organizations and agencies. The program is available only online.

Admission

To be considered for admission to the Master of Science degree in Sport Coaching, Leadership and Administration students must:

1. have completed a bachelor’s degree in the United States or its equivalent from an accredited institution.
2. have a minimum 3.0 grade-point average.
3. submit three letters of recommendation, with at least one from a professional source (colleague, supervisor), and one from an academic source (instructor, advisor).
4. submit a statement of professional goals that clearly describe the applicant’s reasons for pursuing the master’s degree and the goals that the degree will help them attain. Upon acceptance, students must submit evidence of current CPR, first-aid, and blood borne pathogen training and maintain such certification throughout their enrollment in the program.

Applications are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of high probability of success. Factors that are significant in determining admission are:

1. A grade-point average of 3.0 or higher.
2. Professional goals that are consistent with the objectives of the master’s program.
3. Evidence of a philosophical understanding of developmentally appropriate sport experiences.

The Graduate Certificate in Sport Coaching provides opportunities for students to develop expertise in learning and using scientific knowledge and best practices related to coaching and developing athletes and leading sports programs at the intercollegiate, interscholastic, and community sports levels. It facilitates interdisciplinary knowledge in various issues related to coaching across the lifespan. The certificate is available only online.

Admission

To be considered for admission to the Graduate Certificate in Sport Coaching students must:

1. have completed a bachelor’s degree.
2. complete the Intent to Enroll form if you are currently enrolled in a graduate degree program at Michigan State University.

Students who are not enrolled at Michigan State University must:

1. submit a university application and application fee.
2. provide transcripts from all previous institutions of higher education.
3. submit an academic statement of 750 words that clearly describe the applicant’s reasons for pursuing the certificate and the goals that the certificate will help them attain.
4. submit a current resume of no more than two pages.
5. a test of English language proficiency for students for whom English is not a first language.

Upon acceptance, students must submit evidence of current CPR, first-aid, and blood borne pathogen training and maintain such certification throughout their enrollment in the program. Applications are reviewed by faculty who look for indications of high probability of success. Factors that are significant in determining admission are:

1. A grade-point average of 3.0 or higher in the last two years of all undergraduate and graduate course work.
2. Professional goals that are consistent with the objectives of the graduate certificate.
3. Evidence of a philosophical understanding of developmentally appropriate sport experiences.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN SPORT LEADERSHIP AND ADMINISTRATION

The Graduate Certificate in Sport Leadership and Administration provides opportunities for students to develop expertise in the operational and administrative functions required for careers in sport organizations at the intercollegiate, interscholastic, and community sports levels. It exposes students to knowledge of the legal, financial, managerial, governance and ethical aspects of sport. The certificate is available only online.

Admission

To be considered for admission to the Graduate Certificate in Sport Leadership and Administration students must:

1. have completed a bachelor’s degree.
2. complete the Intent to Enroll form if you are currently enrolled in a graduate degree program at Michigan State University.

3. evidence of an understanding of the fundamentals of the sport industry.
4. relevant career experiences, including employment, internships, or field experiences.
Leadership and Administration

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Sport Leadership and Administration

Students must complete 13 credits from the following:

- KIN 849 Theory and Practice of Modern Sport Leadership 3
- KIN 851 The Sport Enterprise 3
- KIN 852 Ethics in Sport Coaching, Leadership, and Administration 1
- KIN 853 Athletic Administration and Governance 3
- KIN 854 Legal Aspects of Sport 3

Doctor of Philosophy

The primary objective of the doctoral degree program in kinesiology is to develop scholars who are competent in teaching, conducting research, and serving in leadership roles in various educational, governmental, public, or private agencies. In addition to developing expertise in an area of specialization, students must be able to interpret and integrate information from related academic disciplines. Individualized programs of study may be developed, taking into consideration students' academic needs and professional goals.

Each doctoral student in kinesiology chooses one of four areas of concentration:

- Athletic Injury and Rehabilitation Training
- Cognitive and Motor Neuroscience
- Exercise Physiology
- Psychosocial Aspects of Sport and Physical Activity

While enrolled in the doctoral degree program in kinesiology, students are expected to present at least one paper at a professional meeting.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below:

Admission

Ordinarily, to be considered for admission into the doctoral program, a master’s degree is required; however, in cases of exceptional scholarly promise, a student may enter the doctoral program following the completion of the undergraduate degree. Factors considered in admissions decisions include (a) clarity of applicant's goals and research interests; (b) relationship between the program and the applicant's goals and research interests; (c) previous academic experience and performance as indicated by transcripts from previous degrees (a competitive cumulative grade-point average of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale); (d) competitive scores on the Graduate Record Examination (and TOEFL for international students); (e) evidence of research competence such as a master's thesis, senior research project, or other research experience; and (f) three letters of recommendation. An interview with a committee of faculty members is strongly recommended.

Requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Kinesiology

Breadth requirement. Students who have completed a previous degree in kinesiology, or similarly named program such as physical education or exercise science, must complete a minimum of 6 credits of kinesiology courses at the 800-900 level outside of the student's area of concentration. Students who have not completed a previous degree in kinesiology must complete a minimum of 9 credits of kinesiology courses at the 800-900 level representing at least two different disciplinary areas (adapted physical activity, athletic injury and rehabilitation training, biomechanics, exercise physiology, growth and motor development, psychosocial aspects of sport and physical activity) outside of the student’s major area of concentration. Courses used to satisfy the breadth requirement must be approved by the student's guidance committee. Courses that are used to satisfy the requirements referenced in the area below titled Educational Inquiry and Research may not be used to satisfy this requirement.

The student must complete a minimum of 60 credits and meet the requirements specified below:

1. Educational Inquiry and Research.

   a. The following course:
      - KIN 995 Research Practicum in Kinesiology 1 to 3

2. Area of Concentration.

   A minimum of four courses at the 800–900 level totaling at least 12 credits in one of the four concentrations approved by the student's guidance committee referenced above. At least 6 of the 12 credits must be in Kinesiology courses. Courses that are used to satisfy the requirements referenced in item 1. above may not be used to satisfy this requirement.

3. Related Studies.

   A cognate that consists of a minimum of three courses at the 400–900 level totaling 9 credits. All 9 of the credits must be in courses outside the Department of Kinesiology and must be related to the student's concentration. Both the cognate and the related courses must be approved by the student's guidance committee.

4. Successful completion of the research practicum.

5. Successful completion and defense of the dissertation. The dissertation must be in the student's concentration. Students may not earn more than 30 credits in KIN 999 Doctoral Dissertation Research.

6. Teaching.

   Competency in teaching the subject matter of the student's concentration to undergraduate students or to an outreach audience, as judged by the student's guidance committee. This requirement may be met as part of a graduate teaching assistantship assignment.
DEPARTMENT of
TEACHER EDUCATION

Dorinda J. Carter, Chairperson

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

The Department of Teacher Education offers a Bachelor of Arts degree program with a major in education. This program is a preprofessional program that is designed for students who plan to teach in elementary schools. Students in the program work toward certification as elementary teachers. Upon satisfactory completion of the requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Education, the bachelor's degree is granted. However, in order for Michigan State University to recommend a person for a teaching certificate, that person must also complete the requirements for the Teacher Certification Internship Year Studies Program described in the section on TEACHER CERTIFICATION below.

Students who plan to teach in secondary schools should refer to the section on “MSU Subject Matter Teaching Majors for Secondary Teacher Certification” in the section on TEACHER CERTIFICATION below.

Students who wish to obtain a special education endorsement in learning disabilities with elementary general education certification should see the Counseling, Educational Psychology, and Special Education section of this catalog for information about majoring in Special Education. These students must be admitted to the Elementary Teacher Certification Program and complete required Professional Education and Elementary Education courses and a concentration in Prekindergarten through Grade Three or Grade Three through Six in addition to other requirements.

Students who wish to obtain teacher certification for birth through kindergarten should see the Human Development and Family Studies section of this catalog for information about majoring in Child Development. Students who wish to obtain teacher certification for birth through grade three may select the Child Development or Education major. Students in either major must be admitted to the Elementary Teacher Certification program and complete required Professional Education and Elementary Education courses and a concentration in Prekindergarten through Grade Three in addition to other requirements.

Admission to the Major

To earn a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Education, students must apply and be admitted to the Teacher Certification Program administered by the Department of Teacher Education in the College of Education (refer to Admission to the Teacher Certification Program under Teacher Certification in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog). Information about admission requirements and the application process can be found at http://education.msu.edu/academics/undergraduate/apply-teacher-prep.asp.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Arts Degree in Education

1. The University requirements for bachelor’s degrees as described in the Undergraduate Education section of this catalog; 120 credits, including general elective credits, are required for the Bachelor of Arts degree in education.

   The completion of Mathematics 201 referenced in item 2. b. (4) below may also satisfy the University Mathematics requirement.

   The University’s Tier II writing requirement for the Education major is met by completing Teacher Education 301 and 404. Those courses are referenced in item 2. below.

2. The following requirements for the major:

   a. Professional Education Courses: 19 credits

      (1) All of the following courses (19 credits):

         CEP 240 Diverse Learners in Multicultural Perspectives 3
         TE 101 Social Foundations of Justice and Equity in Education 3
         TE 102 Pedagogy and Politics of Justice and Equity in Education 3
         TE 150 Reflections on Learning 3
         TE 341 Teaching and Learning of (Bi) Multilingual Learners 3
         TE 371 Justice and Equity Seminar I 1
         TE 372 Justice and Equity Seminar II 1
         TE 471 Justice and Equity Seminar III 1
         TE 472 Justice and Equity Seminar IV 1

   b. Elementary Education Courses: 25 or 26 credits

      (1) All of the following courses (10 credits):

         TE 100 Introduction to Early Childhood and Elementary Education 1
         TE 333 Social Studies for Young Learners (PK-6) 3
         TE 403 Teaching Science to Diverse Learners -Elementary 3
         TE 404 Teaching Social Studies to Diverse Learners-Elementary (W) 3

      (2) Language Acquisition and Development

         One of the following courses (3 or 4 credits):

         LIN 200 Introduction to Language 3
         LIN 401 Introduction to Linguistics 4

      (3) Literacy

         Both of the following courses (6 credits):

         TE 301 Children’s Literacy Development (W) 3
         TE 348 Reading and Responding to Children’s Literature 3

      (4) Mathematics

         Both of the following courses (6 credits):

         MTH 201 Elementary Mathematics for Teachers I 3
         MTH 202 Elementary Mathematics for Teachers II 3

         The completion of Mathematics 201 may satisfy the university mathematics requirement. Mathematics 201 and 202 are prerequisites for Teacher Education 406 or 406A and must be completed with a minimum grade-point of 2.0 prior to enrollment in Teacher Education 406 or 406A.

   c. One of the following concentrations (21 to 29 credits):

      Prekindergarten through Grade Three (29 credits):

      All of the following courses:

      HDFS 320 Interaction with Children in Groups 3

TEACHER CERTIFICATION

ADMISSION TO THE TEACHER CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Information about current admission requirements and the admission application process can be found at http://education.msu.edu/academics/undergraduate/. MSU undergraduates generally apply during the first semester of the sophomore year, although they may apply later.

To be considered for admission to the Teacher Certification Program, an applicant must:

1. Have earned a minimum of 28 credits.
2. Have earned a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5.
3. Have successfully completed any required developmental course work.
4. Have disclosed any prior convictions or civil infractions and provided required court documents as necessary.
5. Have passed all portions of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) Professional Readiness Examination (PRE) or meet established criteria using approved alternative pass measures.
6. Have completed all aspects of the application process before the published deadline.

In addition to general admission requirements, applicants applying for admission to the Teacher Certification Program with a major in Special Education must also complete one or two supervised pre-admission experiences, totaling at least 42 hours, with children or youth who have special needs. Prospective Special Education students are encouraged to talk with Special Education faculty about the relative merits of various sites for securing the required experience. Applicants to the Special Education program must submit forms verifying completion of the experience along with a complete admission application (see http://education.msu.edu/academics/undergraduate/). Only students who have completed the required experience will be considered for admission to the Special Education major.

Persons who already hold baccalaureate degrees from Michigan State University or other recognized institutions of higher learning are required to follow the process for Post-Bachelors students (see http://education.msu.edu/certification/postba/post-bachelor-application.asp). Contact the College of Education Student Affairs Office for more information.

Persons are selected for admission based on a holistic evaluation of criteria that include, but are not limited to, cumulative grade point average, test results, and dispositions for teaching.

Requirements for the disciplinary teaching minors can be found in the section Requirements for the Disciplinary Teaching Minors in the section on TEACHER CERTIFICATION, below. Students wishing to complete one or more of the following optional disciplinary teaching majors, in addition to the grade band concentration and English as a Second Language requirements, should refer to Teacher Certification Options in the catalog sections for the colleges, departments, and schools that administer disciplinary majors that are available for teacher certification.
REQUIREMENTS FOR TEACHER CERTIFICATION

Disciplinary Course Requirements and Pedagogy Course Requirements

For some majors, disciplinary courses in addition to, or in lieu of, the courses that are required for the bachelor’s degree in the disciplinary major are required for teacher certification. Furthermore, for some disciplines, additional pedagogy courses are required for teacher certification.

For additional information concerning disciplinary course requirements and pedagogy course requirements, refer to teacher certification options in the catalog sections for the colleges, departments, and schools that administer disciplinary majors that are available for teacher certification.

General–Liberal Education Requirements

The State of Michigan requires applicants for provisional certification to have completed at least 40 semester credits in a program of general or liberal education, which is designed to ensure that teachers understand the substance, concepts, and methods of the principal areas of human knowledge, and possess the skills essential to communication and inquiry in modern society. The courses used to fulfill the university’s Integrative Studies and Tier I writing requirements will count for 30 of the 40 credits required in general-liberal education.

Observation and Field Experience Requirements

Included in the requirements for teacher certification are courses that involve observations and field experiences in schools. Students are responsible for their transportation to and from observations and field experiences as well as any associated costs (e.g. transportation).

Teacher Certification Internship Year Studies Program

Persons may gain access to the Teacher Certification Internship Year Studies Program as follows:

1. Elementary Teacher Certification:
   a. Students who complete the requirements for the bachelor’s degree with a major in child development, education, or special education along with the teaching major, and all elementary program requirements are thereby qualified to pursue the Internship Year Studies Program.
   b. Michigan State University students who were admitted to the Teacher Certification Program with a disciplinary major other than those referenced in item 1. a. above, who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at Michigan State University, and who complete the requirements for teacher certification referenced in items 2. and 3. a. (1) through (3) in the section “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below are thereby qualified to pursue the Internship Year Studies Program.
   c. Students who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at another educational institution, or who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at Michigan State University without having been admitted to the Teacher Certification Program, must meet the requirements referenced in the section “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below in order to be considered for admission to that program.

Students who plan to direct preschool programs must, and students who plan to teach children under five years of age should, meet the requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Child Development (teacher certification emphasis) and meet the requirements referenced in items 3. a. (1) through (3) in the section “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below in order to be considered for admission to the Internship Year Studies Program. Students who plan to teach kindergarten or early elementary grades may gain access to the Internship Year Studies Program via any one of the three alternatives referenced in item 1. above.

2. Secondary Teacher Certification:
   a. Michigan State University students who were admitted to the Teacher Certification Program with a disciplinary major other than those referenced in item 1. a. above and those referenced in items 3. a. and b. below, who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at Michigan State University, and who complete the requirements for teacher certification referenced in items 2. and 3. b. (1) through (3) in the section on “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below are thereby qualified to pursue the Internship Year Studies Program.
   b. Students who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at another educational institution, or who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at Michigan State University without having been admitted to the Teacher Certification Program, must meet the requirements referenced in the section on “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below in order to be considered for admission to that program.

3. Secondary Teacher Certification K-12 Endorsed Subject Areas:
   a. Michigan State University students who were admitted to the teacher certification program with a music education disciplinary major and who complete the requirements for teacher certification referenced in items 2. and 3. b. (1) and (2) in the section on “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below are thereby qualified to pursue the Internship Year Studies Program.
   b. Michigan State University students who were admitted to the Teacher Certification Program with an art education disciplinary major, who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree from Michigan State University, and who complete the requirements for teacher certification referenced in items 2. and 3. b. (1) and (2) in the section on “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below are thereby qualified to pursue the Internship Year Studies Program.

c. Michigan State University students who were admitted to the Teacher Certification Program with a disciplinary major other than those referenced in items 2. and b. above, who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at Michigan State University, and who complete the requirements for teacher certification referenced in items 2. and 3 b. (1) and (2) under the heading “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below are thereby qualified to pursue the Internship Year Studies Program.

d. Students who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at another educational institution, or who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at Michigan State University without having been admitted to the Teacher Certification Program, must meet the requirements referenced in the section on “Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program” below in order to be considered for admission to that program.

Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program

All students seeking admission to the Internship Year Studies Program must have:
1. A baccalaureate degree from a recognized educational institution with a cumulative grade–point average of at least 2.5.
2. Passed all portions of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC), Professional Readiness Examination (PRE), or demonstrated proficiency using approved alternative pass measures and completed the State of Michigan Department of Education’s technology requirement.
3. Completed the following undergraduate requirements for teacher certification:
   a. Undergraduate Requirements for Elementary Teacher Certification:
      (1) The professional education courses listed in the "Undergraduate Professional Education Course Requirements for Elementary Teacher Certification" section below.
      (2) The Elementary Education Courses listed in the "Undergraduate Professional Education Course Requirements for Elementary Teacher Certification" section below.
      (3) Courses comprising a grade band concentration listed in the "Undergraduate Professional Education Course Requirements for Elementary Teacher Certification" section below.
      (4) The Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) courses listed in the "Undergraduate Professional Education Course Requirements for Elementary Teacher Certification" section below.
      (5) Optional Additional Teaching Endorsements in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Japanese, or Spanish.
   b. Undergraduate Requirements for Secondary Teacher Certification:
      (1) The Professional Education Courses listed below in the section on the “Undergraduate Professional Education Course Requirements for Secondary Teacher Certification.”
      (2) An approved disciplinary major for secondary teacher certification, with a grade-point average of at least 2.5. The approved disciplinary majors for secondary teacher certification are listed below in the section on “Options for Acceptable Subject Matter Teaching Majors and Minors for Secondary Teacher Certification.”
      (3) An approved disciplinary teaching minor for secondary teacher certification, with a grade-point average of at least 2.5. The approved disciplinary teaching minors for secondary teacher certification and their requirements are listed below in the section on “Options for Acceptable Subject Matter Teaching Majors and Minors for Secondary Teacher Certification.”
   4. Earned a grade point average of 2.5 or above for pre-internship professional education courses required for teacher certification with no individual grade below 2.0.
   5. Completed any disciplinary courses and pedagogy courses that are required in addition to the courses that are required for the disciplinary major and the courses that are referenced in item 3.a.(1) or 3.b.(1) above.
   Any additional disciplinary courses and any additional pedagogy courses that are required for teacher certification are referenced in the sections on teacher certification options in the catalog sections for the colleges, departments, and schools that administer the disciplinary majors that are available for teacher certification.
   6. Passed the required State of Michigan certification tests for elementary teaching or the appropriate major subject area test for secondary teaching.
   7. Submitted a complete conviction disclosure form; and
   8. Met professional criteria as specified by the College of Education.

- TE 473 Justice and Equity Seminar III 3

b. The following course if the teaching major and minor are in different subject matter:

- TE 409 Crafting Teaching Practices in the Secondary Teaching Minor 1

The pedagogy courses that are required for students with a disciplinary major in music education are specified in the section on TEACHER CERTIFICATION OPTIONS in the College of Music section of this catalog. Students with a disciplinary major in music education must complete Teacher Education 150, Teacher Education 250, Teacher Education 302 and Music 277 to be considered for admission to the Music Education student teaching experience. Teacher Education 409 is required if the student pursues a minor. It is not required of the major.

Students with a disciplinary major in art education must complete Studio Art 481 and 482 in lieu of Teacher Education 407 and 408.
Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program

The section on admission to the Internship Year Studies Program pertains to all students who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at another educational institution, or who complete the requirements for a bachelor’s degree at Michigan State University without having been admitted to the Teacher Certification Program.

The number of students admitted to the Internship Year Studies Program is established by the university. Enrollment in the program is limited. The criteria and procedures for the selection of students for admission to the Internship Year Studies Program are established by the College of Education.

Requirements for the Internship Year Studies Program

1. All of the following Professional Education Courses (24 credits):
   - TE 501 Internship in Teaching Diverse Learners I 6
   - TE 502 Internship in Teaching Diverse Learners II 6
   - TE 801 Professional Roles and Teaching Practice I 3
   - TE 802 Reflection and Inquiry in Teaching Practice I 3
   - TE 803 Professional Roles and Teaching Practice II 3
   - TE 804 Reflection and Inquiry in Teaching Practice II 3

2. For those pursuing optional additional discipline-specific teaching endorsements, one credit of TE 503 must be taken for each additional teaching endorsement earned.

3. Meet all professional standards for the internship year as specified by the College of Education.

Students with a music education disciplinary major must complete approved alternative courses in lieu of Teacher Education 501, 502, 801, 802, 803, and 804.

Students with a special education disciplinary major who are seeking both teacher certification and endorsement in learning disabilities must complete Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education 502A, 801A, 802A, 803A, and 804A in lieu of Teacher Education 502, 801, 802, 803, and 804. Those courses contain disciplinary content, as well as pedagogical content. Therefore, those courses are also counted toward the requirements for endorsement in the area of learning disabilities. Students who completed Teacher Education 502, 801, 802, 803, and 804 and who are seeking endorsement in learning disabilities must complete Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education 502A, 801A, 802A, 803A, and 804A.

Internship Placements

Students seeking teacher certification are required to complete extended internships during the Internship Year Studies Program. Interns who desire to be placed in secondary schools must pass the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) subject tests in their teaching major. Elementary interns, including Special Education and Child Development majors, must pass, at minimum, the MTTC tests appropriate to their grade band concentration. For the full criteria to be admitted to the internship year, see Prerequisites for Admission to the Internship Year Studies Program.

Although students are given an opportunity to express their preferences concerning possible internship placement sites, the placement of students in internships is the sole responsibility of the College of Education. The College will not honor student-arranged internship placements.

Each student’s subject areas, the availability of field instructors, the voluntary willingness of schools to accept interns and visitors, and the College’s commitment to providing service to public schools are considered in internship placement decisions. Given the number of factors that influence internship placement decisions, the College cannot guarantee that placements will be available in the vicinity of East Lansing or in a location that a student prefers.

Students are responsible for their transportation to and from internships. Students are responsible for costs associated with internships; e.g., moving to and living in the community in which a student’s internship placement is located.

For additional information, students should contact the faculty who are responsible for internship placements.

Relationship of the Internship Year Studies Program to Master’s Degree Programs

Students may be admitted to the Internship Year Studies Program without being admitted to a master’s degree program. Students who are admitted to both the Internship Year Studies Program and a master’s degree program may pursue both programs simultaneously and may be allowed to apply 800–level courses from the Internship Year Studies Program to their master’s degree with the approval of the units that administer the master’s degree program.

Students in any master’s program in the College of Education may apply a maximum of 12 credits earned through any combination of courses taken through lifelong education, graduate certification, or in transfer from another institution. Each program may determine if courses are appropriate for the master’s program and may allow fewer than 12 credits to be applied to the specific master’s program.

For additional information about the 800–level courses that are required for the Internship Year Studies Program, refer to the section on “Requirements for the Internship Year Studies Program.”

MSU SUBJECT MATTER TEACHING MAJORS AND MINORS FOR TEACHER PREPARATION AND CERTIFICATION

Michigan State University offers three options for subject matter teacher preparation and certification.

MSU Teaching Majors for Elementary Teacher Certification

The State of Michigan requires a minimum of 36 semester credits for a group (multiple subject) teaching major and a minimum of 30 semester credits for a single subject teaching major for elementary teacher certification. Four teaching majors are available for prospective elementary school teachers:

- Group (multiple subject) teaching majors
  - Language Arts
  - Social Studies
  - Integrated Science
  - Single subject teaching major
    - Mathematics

These majors, which are housed in the College of Education, provide prospective elementary teachers with the opportunity to focus academic studies in a set of closely allied subject areas that are central to the core curriculum in elementary and middle schools and that are aligned with Michigan Department of Education standards. To enroll in one of these teaching majors, students must be admitted to the Elementary Teacher Certification Program in the College of Education. The specific course requirements for each of the teaching majors are listed below.

Students in the special education major are recommended for elementary teaching certification and K-12 for their special education endorsement area.

MSU Disciplinary Majors for Elementary and Secondary Teacher Certification

The State of Michigan requires a minimum of 30 semester credits for a single-subject disciplinary teaching major, a minimum of 36 semester credits for a group disciplinary teaching major, and a minimum of 50 semester credits for a comprehensive teaching major. If the minimum number of credits required for teacher certification is not required in the student’s disciplinary major, the student must complete additional credits as necessary for teacher certification. Comprehensive majors are not required to have a separate disciplinary minor.

All of the disciplinary majors are undergraduate majors.

Students in the art education, communicative sciences and disorders, and music education majors are recommended only for secondary teacher certification: K-12 endorsed subject area.

Below, the disciplinary majors that are available for teacher certification are identified, along with the colleges that administer them. Group disciplinary majors and comprehensive majors are also identified, and other information is provided.

Some of the disciplinary majors lead to the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree. Either degree is appropriate for teacher certification. The student should refer to the relevant college section for additional information about a given major.

MSU Disciplinary Teaching Minors for Elementary and Secondary Teacher Certification

The State of Michigan requires a minimum of 20 semester credits for a single-subject disciplinary teaching minor, and a minimum of 24 semester credits for a group subject disciplinary teaching minor, for elementary or secondary teacher certification. Below, the disciplinary teaching minors that are available for teacher certification are identified, and other information is provided.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION REGULATIONS IN THE STATE OF MICHIGAN

All persons teaching in Michigan public schools must be certified by the State Board of Education. Candidates who complete an approved teacher education program apply for teacher certification and are recommended to the State of Michigan by the university. Holders of the Michigan Elementary Provisional Teaching Certificate are eligible to teach in the State of Michigan grades K–5 all subjects, K–8 Self–Contain Classrooms and grades 6–8 in subject areas. Holders of the Michigan Secondary Provisional Teaching Certificate are eligible to teach in the State of Michigan grades 6–12 in subject areas and grades K–12 in specified subject areas.

In order for Michigan State University to recommend a person for a teaching certificate, that person must complete the requirements for the teacher certification program including the Internship Year Studies Program.

Initially, Michigan Provisional Teaching Certificates, elementary or secondary, are recommended by Michigan State University upon the satisfactory completion of program requirements and are generally valid for six years.

To be qualified to teach at the expiration of the provisional certificate, one must either qualify for a professional education certificate or for the renewal of the provisional certificate. Ultimately, teachers must fulfill the requirements for the Michigan Professional Education Certificate. Current requirements for advancing to the Professional Education Certificate or renewing a Provisional Certificate can be found on the Michigan Department of Education Web site at: http://www.michigan.gov/mde.

The detailed requirements for teacher certification are not set forth here. Students who plan to teach should consult their academic advisors early in their programs of study to obtain information about the requirements for the particular teaching certificate in which they are interested. Admission to the teacher certification program requires application and satisfaction of minimum admission requirements. Refer to Admission to the Teacher Certification Program under Teacher Certification in the Department of Teacher Education section of this catalog for additional information.

Students who intend to pursue a teaching certificate should know that certification requires payment of a fee to the Michigan Department of Education. Payment of the fee is a certificate requirement that must be met prior to issuance of the teaching certificate. The Administrative Rules Governing the Certification of Michigan Teachers require that an application for certification must be made no later than five years after credit requirements have been met. Furthermore, the Administrative Rules Governing the Certification of Michigan Teachers (c. 390.1201) states that:

(1) The state board may refuse to grant or renew, or may revoke or suspend for a fixed term, or may impose reasonable conditions on, a teaching certificate granted pursuant to these rules for the following reasons:
   (a) Fraud, material misrepresentation, or concealment in the application for a certificate.
   (b) Failure or ineligibility of the applicant or certificate holder to meet the criteria for eligibility for the certificate.
   (c) Conviction, as an adult, of an act of immoral conduct contributing to the delinquency of a child, or of a felony involving moral turpitude.

The College of Education solicits information that is used in making decisions regarding admission, continued enrollment in teacher certification programs, internship placements, and recommendations for teacher certification. Information concerning the procedures that the College follows in soliciting and acting on such information may be obtained in the College of Education Student Affairs office. Since the State of Michigan enters into reciprocal agreements with other states in regard to teacher certification, students should be aware that although other states have requirements similar to those of the State of Michigan, other states may impose additional requirements.

Students who intend to pursue a teaching certificate should also be apprised of the following:

(2) Beginning July 1, 1992, the State Board of Education shall only issue a teaching certificate to a person who has passed all portions of the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) as follows:
   (a) For a secondary level teaching certificate, has passed both a basic skills test and the appropriate available subject area test for each subject area (major or minor) in which he or she applies to be certified. At the secondary level, completion of course work for at least one major and one minor are required.

(b) For an elementary level teaching certificate, has passed a basic skills test and the elementary certification test, and has passed the appropriate available subject area test for each subject area, if any, in which he or she applies to be certified.

(10) The Michigan Department of Education, or if approved by the state board, a private testing service, may assess fees for taking a basic skills test, the elementary certification test, and the subject area tests.

ENDORSEMENTS

Persons who hold a valid State of Michigan teaching certificate may earn additional certificate endorsements. Certificate endorsements signify that the certificate holder is highly qualified to teach in the endorsement area at the appropriate grade levels.

The holder of an elementary or secondary provisional, permanent, continuing or professional education certificate may qualify for an additional endorsement by meeting the course work requirements for any Michigan State University disciplinary teaching major or minor. The planned program for meeting course work requirements must include a minimum of 20 semester hours and be approved by a College of Education advisor. In addition to completing required course work in the endorsement area, the candidate must pass the corresponding MTTC subject test.

A K-12 reading specialist (BR) endorsement or an elementary or secondary reading (BT) endorsement can be obtained by completing the requirements for Michigan State University's Master of Arts degree in Teaching and Curriculum and a Graduate Specialization in Literacy and Language Instruction. A K-12 special education endorsement can be obtained in learning disabilities or autism spectrum disorders by completing the requirements for Michigan State University's Master of Arts degree program in Special Education. A K-12 special education endorsement may be placed on either an elementary or secondary teaching certificate. A elementary or secondary Educational Technology (NP) endorsement can be added to an elementary or secondary certificate, respectively, by completing the requirements for Michigan State University's Master of Arts degree program in Educational Technology or by completing a prescribed 21-credit program in educational technology. An English as a Second Language endorsement can be added to either an elementary or a secondary certificate by completing the requirements for Michigan State University's Master of Arts degree program in Teaching and Curriculum or by completing a prescribed 23 credit program in English as a Second Language. A vocational endorsement in agricultural education can be obtained by meeting specified requirements.

To be recommended for certification, students completing course work required for endorsement areas must pass the appropriate Michigan Test for Teacher Certification Subject Test. Individuals who are interested in seeking additional endorsements must contact an academic advisor in the Office of Student Affairs, College of Education.

GRADUATE STUDY

Graduate study in the Department of Teacher Education leads to the Master of Arts or Doctor of Philosophy degree. Graduate Specializations are also available in Language and Literacy Education for doctoral students, Literacy and Language Instruction for master's students, and in K-12 English as a Second Language for master's students. A Graduate Certificate in Children's and Young Adult Literature and a Graduate Certificate in Elementary STEM Education are available online. Graduate certificates at the doctoral level are also available in Science Education, Urban Education, English Language Learner Education, and Qualitative Research Methods.

TEACHING and CURRICULUM

Master of Arts

The Master of Arts degree program in Teaching and Curriculum (MATC) is designed principally for persons who wish to acquire advanced professional knowledge related to teaching and curriculum with diverse learners in K-12 schools. The master’s program in teaching and curriculum consists of (1) designated areas of integrated, practice-centered inquiry in professional, disciplinary, and foundational studies and (2) sustained, simultaneous inquiry in both university and public–school settings. The program is designed for certified teachers and other educators who wish to continue their professional studies in teaching and curriculum.

Students may choose any of the following areas to complete a 9-credit concentration in the MATC: Educational Technology, Educational Psychology, K12 Administration, Sociocultural Perspectives, Math/Science, ESL, Literacy, or Kinesiology (Sports Coaching).

In lieu of completing a 9-credit concentration, students may choose to complete a Graduate Specialization in either Literacy and Language Instruction or K12 English as a Second Language (ESL). The Specializations also prepare students for additional endorsements. The Graduate Literacy Specialization can result in a BT (Reading) or BR (Reading Specialist) endorsement. The ESL Graduate Specialization provides preparation to earn a K12-level endorsement in ESL. Applicants who have completed the MSU Teacher Certification Intern Year (TCIY) may have 9 credits (TE 801, TE 802, and TE 804) transferred in to meet degree requirements. All course work, including MSU and external transfer courses, must be completed within 5 (five) years.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.
Admission

Applications for admission to the master's program are reviewed by faculty who look for evidence of appropriate preparation for advanced disciplinary and professional study at the master's level and the likelihood of academic success, as indicated by an applicant's prior educational record, work experience, statement of professional goals, letters of recommendation, and an assigned professional essay.

Requirements for the Master of Arts Degree in Teaching and Curriculum

The program is available only online and under Plan B (without thesis). Students must complete 30 credits distributed as follows:

1. Professional Development and Inquiry Core: 9
   a. One of the following courses:
      TE 807 Professional Development and Inquiry 3
      TE 808 Inquiry into Classroom Teaching and Learning 3
   b. One of the following courses:
      TE 801 Professional Roles and Teaching Practice I 3
      TE 818 Curriculum in Its Social Context 3
      Students who have completed Teacher Education 801 in the College's Internship Year Studies program may use it to fulfill this requirement.
   c. One of the following capstone courses:
      TE 870 Curriculum Design, Development, and Evaluation 3
      TE 872 Teachers as Teacher Educators 3
      TE 873 Literacy Leadership 3

2. Concentration: 9
   Complete 9 credits in course work selected from one of the following:
   a. Three 3-credit courses at the 400-level or above from a list of approved courses available in the department.
   b. Three 3-credit courses at the 400-level or above from one of the areas of concentration on an approved list available in the department.

3. Electives: 12
   a. Three 3-credit Teacher Education courses at the 400-level or above from a list of approved courses available in the department. Students who have completed Teacher Education 802 and 804 in the College's Internship Year Studies program may use those courses to fulfill this requirement.
   b. Three additional credits of electives as approved by the student's academic advisor.
   4. A synthesis paper acceptable to the student's examining committee. This paper must be submitted near the end of the student's program of study. The submission of an acceptable synthesis paper and professional portfolio satisfies the University requirement of a final examination or evaluation.
   5. A professional portfolio developed by the student throughout the master's program, beginning in Teacher Education 807 or 808. The portfolio is reviewed by two faculty members. A third reviewer is required if the first two reviewers do not reach consensus regarding the acceptability of the portfolio.

The submission of an acceptable portfolio satisfies the University's requirement of a final examination or evaluation.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN CHILDREN’S AND YOUNG ADULT LITERATURE

The Graduate Certificate in Children's and Young Adult Literature is designed to provide in-service elementary and secondary teachers with materials and methods for teaching international children’s and young adult literature. The focus of the program is on multimodal texts, exploration of the kinds of conversations that surround pieces of literature, and whether those texts are written for children, adults, or both. The program aids understanding classics and awards winners in children’s and young adult literature by and about people and communities who have been and continue to be marginalized by and underrepresented in the school curriculum in the United States. The graduate certificate is available only online.

Admission

Students must be currently enrolled in a graduate degree program in the College of Education at Michigan State University and must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site.

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Children’s and Young Adult Literature

Students must complete 9 credits from the following courses:

1. The following course (3 credits):
   TE 849 Methods and Materials for Teaching Children’s and Adolescent Literature 3

2. Two of the following courses (6 credits):
   TE 836 Awards and Classics of Children’s Literature 3
   TE 883 Children’s Literature and Film 3
   TE 850 Critical Reading for Children and Adolescents 3
   TE 883 Seminars in Literacy Instruction 1 to 4
   TE 891 Special Topics in Teaching, Curriculum, and Schooling 1 to 4
   A children’s or young adult literature course outside the department, as approved by the student's academic advisor.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN ELEMENTARY STEM EDUCATION

The Graduate Certificate in Elementary STEM Education is designed to provide in-service elementary teachers with knowledge about student learning and engagement and instructional practices in STEM disciplines. The primary focus of the program is understanding inquiry-oriented practices across STEM disciplines. The graduate certificate is available only online.

Admission

Students who wish to complete the graduate certificate and are currently enrolled in a graduate degree program in the College of Education at Michigan State University must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site.

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Elementary STEM Education

Students must complete three courses from at least two of the categories below (9 credits):

Science Education
- TE 860 Practice and Inquiry in Science Education 3
- TE 861A Teaching Science for Understanding 3
- TE 861B Inquiry, Nature of Science, and Science Teaching 3
- TE 861C Action Research in K-12 Science Mathematics Classrooms 3

Technology Education
- CEP 810 Teaching for Understanding with Technology 3
- CEP 811 Adapting Innovative Technologies to Education 3
- CEP 812 Applying Educational Technology to Issues of Practices 3
- TE 831 Teaching School Subject Matter with Technology 3

Elementary Education
- TE 809 Inquiry-Oriented Instructional Strategies for the Elementary Classroom 3

Mathematics Education
- CEP 805 Learning Mathematics with Technology 3
- TE 855 Teaching School Mathematics 3
- TE 857 Teaching and Learning Mathematical Problem Solving 3

Special Topics
- TE 891 Special Topics in Teaching, Curriculum, and Schooling 1 to 4
CURRICULUM, INSTRUCTION, AND TEACHER EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy

The doctoral program in Curriculum, Instruction, and Teacher Education (CITE) is designed for individuals who are interested in and show promise of becoming scholars and leaders in the domains of curriculum, instruction, and teacher education at the Pre-K–12 level, in out-of-school spaces, or in local, state, regional, national, or international institutions or agencies. The program is characterized by its interdisciplinary and interinstitutional perspectives on problems and issues of educational practice, as well as its commitment to educational justice and to addressing critical challenges faced by children, students, families, and communities. The program combines internationally renowned faculty, an interdisciplinary approach, exposure to multiple ideas, and flexibility in study through a variety of focal areas to create a one-of-a-kind learning experience tailored to students’ goals and commitments. The program is designed to facilitate doctoral students’ enactment of the Department’s Core Principles in their scholarship, teaching, and service/outreach.

CITE doctoral students link their areas of concentration with one or more of the following: Comparative and Global Studies, Critical Studies, Curriculum, History and Social Studies Education, Language and Literacy, Mathematics Education, Race, Culture, and Equity in Education, Science Education, Teachers and Teacher Learning, Urban Education, or Other Areas of Interest.

Students who are enrolled in the Doctor of Philosophy degree program in Curriculum, Instruction, and Teacher Education in the Department of Teacher Education may elect a specialization in language and literacy. For additional information, refer to the statement on Graduate Specialization in Language and Literacy below.

In addition to meeting the requirements of the university and of the College of Education, students must meet the requirements specified below.

Admission

Persons who hold degrees in a wide range of disciplines may apply for admission to the doctoral program. Applicants with limited backgrounds in education, however, may be required to complete collateral work in this field. Applicants must submit a sample of scholarly writing.

Review of applicants focuses on their study and experience in education, on the compatibility between their professional goals and the doctoral program, and on their potential for successful advanced degree work.

Requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Curriculum, Instruction, and Teacher Education

1. Core Proseminar sequence. Both of the following courses:
   - TE 901 Proseminar in Curriculum, Instruction, and Teacher Education I 3
   - TE 902 Proseminar in Curriculum, Instruction, and Teacher Education II 3
2. Research Requirement - Educational inquiry and research.
3. Core studies in education. Three courses from a list of approved courses that are designed to provide broad and diverse perspectives on education. The approved list is available from the Department of Teacher Education.
4. Area of concentration. At least five additional courses in the student's area of concentration. Both the area and the related courses must be approved by the student's guidance committee.
5. Successful completion and defense of the dissertation. Students may not earn more than 30 credits in TE 999 Doctoral Dissertation Research.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNER EDUCATION

The Graduate Certificate in English Language Learner Education is designed for students in doctoral programs who wish to gain a comprehensive understanding of the multiple complexities in educating English Language Learners (ELL) including the influence of the socio-historical, local, and policy contexts and the challenges of teaching learners with diverse levels of English proficiency and prior formal schooling experiences in both English as a second language and content-area classrooms. The graduate certificate provides an overview of the different sociocultural, socio-historical, and sociopolitical factors that influence ELL education; demonstrates different theories, methods, and program models in English as a second language teaching, bilingual education, and content-area teaching; stresses the importance of affirming the linguistic and cultural diversity of ELL’s; and offers the knowledge-base and skills in ELL education that students can apply in their own research and teaching in the field of education.

Admission

To be considered for admission to the Graduate Certificate in English Language Learner Education students must be pursuing a doctoral degree program within the College of Education and must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site.
Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in English Language Learner Education

Students must complete 12 credits from the following:

1. Four of the following courses (12 credits):
   - EAD 907 Educational Policy for Immigrant and English Language Learner Students 3
   - LLT 808 Assessment for Language Teaching and Research 3
   - LLT 860 Second Language Acquisition 3
   - SOC 852 Migration and Social Change 3
   - TE 904 ELL/ESL Research and Practice: K-12 3
   - TE 908 Sociohistorical Perspectives on English Language Learners and Second Language Education in the U.S. 3
   - TE 909 English Language Learners in Content Areas: Constructing Research Communities and Resources 3

Students who wish to take an alternative course (3 or 4 credits) on English Language Learners in substitution of a course above must request formal permission from the graduate certificate program faculty. Only one substitution request will be accepted.

2. An English Language Learners Education research project focusing on issues related to teaching and learning, curriculum, policy, counseling, or leadership as they pertain to understanding problems, issues, and potential solutions in ELL education. This requirement can be met through a student’s doctoral research practicum requirement or through an independent study project arrangement with a faculty member. The project’s topic must be preapproved by the certificate program faculty. The project must result in a paper with a minimum length of 25 pages with references.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN QUALITATIVE RESEARCH METHODS

The Graduate Certificate in Qualitative Research Methods is designed for doctoral students enrolled in College of Education doctoral programs. It focuses on enhancing doctoral students’ theoretical and practical preparation and expertise in conceiving, designing, conducting, analyzing, and reporting qualitative research studies as well as preparing them to teach both introductory and advanced courses in qualitative research methods when assuming faculty positions elsewhere.

Admission

Students must be currently enrolled in a doctoral program in the College of Education at Michigan State University and must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site.

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Qualitative Research Methods

Students must complete 15 credits from the following:

1. Both of the following courses (6 credits):
   - CEP 930 Educational Inquiry 3
   - TE 931 Introduction to Qualitative Methods in Educational Research 3

2. At least three of the following courses (9 credits):
   - HST 803 Seminar in Methodology of Historical Research 3
   - SOC 985 Qualitative Field Research 3
   - TE 938 Qualitative Data Analysis 3
   - TE 939A Special Topics in Advanced Qualitative Methodology 3
   - TE 939B Advanced Qualitative Methods: Critical Ethnography 3
   - TE 939C Advanced Qualitative Methods: Discourse Analysis 3
   - TE 939D Advanced Qualitative Methods: Case Studies 3
   - TE 939E Advanced Qualitative Methods: Humanities Oriented Research 3
   - TE 939F Advanced Qualitative Methods: Phenomenology 3

   TE 939G Advanced Qualitative Methods: Humanizing Research: Decolonizing Qualitative Inquiry 3
   WRA 870 Research Methodologies in Rhetoric and Writing 3

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN SCIENCE EDUCATION

The Graduate Certificate in Science Education, which is administered by the Department of Teacher Education in the College of Education, is designed for doctoral students who are interested in developing expertise in science education across and within a range of theoretical and methodological perspectives. Cognition, sociocultural, and feminist-critical perspectives along with both qualitative and quantitative methodologies are studied.

Persons who hold degrees in a wide range of disciplines may apply for admission to the certificate program. Applicants without sufficient science or science education background will be required to complete collateral course work or demonstrate proficiency through other means. Collateral course work will not count towards the certificate program. Review of applicants focuses on their study and experience in science and education, on the compatibility between their professional goals and the certificate program, and the potential for successful advanced degree work.

With approval of the College of Education, the certificate is available as an elective to any student who is enrolled in a Doctor of Philosophy degree program in the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, College of Natural Science, or the College of Education. Students must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site. Students must meet the requirements of the certificate specified below, in addition to the requirements for the student’s Doctor of Philosophy degree program.

Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Science Education

1. Both of the following courses (9 credits):
   - TE 936 Topics in Research on Teaching and Learning Science 6
   - TE 937 Topics in Social, Historical, Philosophical Foundations of Science Education 3

   Students will enroll in two 3-credit enrollments for Teacher Education 936.

2. Students must complete a project under the supervision of a Teacher Education science education faculty member. College of Education students may fulfill the project requirement through a science education-focused research practicum by enrolling in Teacher Education 995 for 1 to 3 credits. Students outside the College of Education can meet this requirement by enrolling in a 1-credit section of Teacher Education 990 Independent Study experience with a Teacher Education faculty member.

GRADUATE SPECIALIZATION IN K-12 ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

The Graduate Specialization in K-12 English as a Second Language, which is administered by the Department of Teacher Education in the College of Education, is designed for students who aspire to become endorsed to teach English as a Second Language at the elementary and/or secondary level in a K-12 setting.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN SCIENCE EDUCATION

1. Both of the following courses (9 credits):
   - TE 936 Topics in Research on Teaching and Learning Science 6
   - TE 937 Topics in Social, Historical, Philosophical Foundations of Science Education 3

   Students will enroll in two 3-credit enrollments for Teacher Education 936.

2. Students must complete a project under the supervision of a Teacher Education science education faculty member. College of Education students may fulfill the project requirement through a science education-focused research practicum by enrolling in Teacher Education 995 for 1 to 3 credits. Students outside the College of Education can meet this requirement by enrolling in a 1-credit section of Teacher Education 990 Independent Study experience with a Teacher Education faculty member.
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Admission

Students must be currently enrolled in the Master of Arts degree in Teaching and Curriculum, the Master of Arts degree in Education, or the Master of Arts degree in Special Education at Michigan State University and must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site. With the approval of the department and college that administers the student’s degree program, the courses that are used to satisfy the graduate specialization may also be used to satisfy the requirements for the master’s degree. The planned program of courses meets the content knowledge requirements set for by the Michigan Department of Education for the K-12 Endorsement in English as a Second Language (NS).

Michigan Department of Education (MDE) requires whenever teachers add a K-12 endorsement, they must have reading course work for both levels of certification - elementary and secondary. It is assumed, to be in compliance with MDE standards for initial certification, that an elementary certified teacher has already had course work related to elementary reading and, likewise, secondary certified teachers have already had a course in cross-content secondary reading. To earn the K-12 endorsement, teachers need to add the reading course that would extend their certification to include the other level.

GRADUATE SPECIALIZATION IN LANGUAGE AND LITERACY EDUCATION

The Graduate Specialization in Language and Literacy Education, which is administered by the Department of Teacher Education, is designed for students who aspire to be scholars, curriculum developers, and policy leaders in literacy at school, district, state, national, and international levels. The specialization focuses on literacy theory, research, and education. It is for students who wish to address issues of language and literacy development, literacy use, literacy instruction, literacy contexts of social, cultural, and linguistic differences, and the possibilities of transforming how people read and take action in their worlds.

The graduate specialization is available as an elective to students who are enrolled in the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Educational Psychology and Educational Technology, the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Curriculum, Instruction and Teacher Education or the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Special Education. Students must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site. With the approval of the department and college that administers the student’s degree program, the courses that are used to satisfy the specialization may also be used to satisfy the requirements for the doctoral degree.

The practicum should be focused on a problem in language and literacy education.

GRADUATE SPECIALIZATION IN LITERACY AND LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION

The Graduate Specialization in Literacy and Language Instruction, which is administered by the Department of Teacher Education in the College of Education, is designed for students who aspire to develop strong expertise in literacy and language instruction. The specialization is available only online.

The specialization is available as an elective to students who are enrolled in master’s degree programs in the College of Education at Michigan State University. Students must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site. With the approval of the department and college that administers the student’s degree program, the courses that are used to satisfy the specialization may also be used to satisfy the requirements for the master's degree.

Requirements for the Graduate Specialization in Literacy and Language Instruction

Students must complete the following (21 credits):

1. All of the following courses (18 credits):
   - TE 807 Professional Development and Inquiry 3
   - TE 845 Language Diversity and Literacy Instruction and Assessment 3
   - TE 848 Writing Assessment and Instruction 3
   - TE 849 Methods and Materials for Teaching Children's and Adolescent Literature 3
   - TE 853 Assessing and Responding to Literacy Learning Difficulties I 3
   - TE 873 Literacy Leadership 3

2. One of the following courses (3 credits):
   - TE 842 Elementary Reading Assessment and Instruction 3
   - TE 843 Secondary Reading Assessment and Instruction 3

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN TEACHER LEADERSHIP

The Graduate Certificate in Teacher Leadership prepares well-qualified teacher leaders for Michigan and beyond by providing relevant, online programming options for educators interested in building expertise in teacher leadership. Students who successfully complete the certificate will qualify for a Michigan Advanced Professional Education Certificate from the Michigan Department of Education. The certificate is available only online and is available to graduate students at Michigan State University. Student who wish to complete the certificate must complete the Intent to Enroll form on the program Web site.
